MUCH INTEREST IN OIL PROBING

Durell Field, Like the South Branch Territory is to Be Tested Again.

MANY BELIEVE THAT OIL UNDERLIES LOCAL SOIL

Test Wells Put Down Years Ago Brought Large Showing of Petroleum, But Were Abandoned For One Reason or Another.

The Durell oil field, like South Branch and Weston Station territory is again to be tested for oil and gas. This time the boring will be done in a thorough manner, with plenty of money and ambition behind the work, and if oil or gas is not found in paying quantities it will be because there is none to be found in these fields. Hundreds of people, who have investigated for themselves, are confident that there is oil in the Durell, South Branch and Weston fields, and they like the rest of the people are very anxious that it shall be found in paying quantities.

The people that has the testing in charge is the Pittsburg Oil & Gas company, their representative in the drilling operations being Fred W. Worthington of Pittsburg an expert with the drilling tools and machinery Mr. Worthington, who makes his head quarters in Towanda, has secured all the leases formerly owned by the Black Diamond Oil company, whose leases lapsed during the past few years of idleness on their part and many more leases besides. In fact he has nearly all the land in the local oil and gas belt under lease. The Pittsburg company will drill a well right near the site of the old Durell well, and also one about a mile this side of Liberty Corners. It is the intention of the company to drill at least six test wells in Albany, Asylum and Terry townships, thus giving the field one of the most thorough tests for oil in the history of the oil fever in this section.

This territory has had a varied experience in the search for oil. At least a score of years ago the people of this section first began the test for oil, and during that time wells have been put down both at Durell and at Lovelton, the former place striking the sure petroleum, while at Lovelton gas with hundreds of pounds pressure at the well was found, and which even to this day is being used by families near the well for lighting, heating and cooking purposes.

For some reason at the Durell well, even after oil was found and bailed out of the well by the gallon, all operations were stopped, the well plugged and nature left to hide its wealth of that fluid as best it could. The reasons given for this have been many, but have never been satisfactory to the local capitalists who put their money in the tests. This time no local money is in the scheme to make the earth disgorge its hidden wealth, and it is believed by those in the immediate vicinity of the testing that "something will certainly be doing" this time, and whatever may be found in the Durell field will be used to declare dividends to the stockholders of the Pittsburg Oil & Gas company.

Dissatisfactory Testing.

Testing for oil and gas in Bradford county in years gone by has been attended with much dissatisfaction. Local people would invest money, some of them their every dollar, and away would go the drill into the bowels of the earth. From day to day encouraging reports would go out, and in some instances the capital stock would be increased, and the expectancy of the stockholders would be at a fever heat.

After several weeks of drilling and cleaning out of the well, explosives would be used, the well "shot" in other words, a cloud of dust would go up, and after a few gallons of oil were bailed from the well it would be plugged and left as a reminder to the men who dared to invest their money.

Some would say: "I told you so,' while others would content themselves with the thought that there was oil, and if the well had been drilled in farther, the earth would have been compelled to give up it's wealth.

Alleged Double Cross.

As an illustration the story is told of how during the drilling in of a well at South Branch a stranger came to Towanda the night before the well was "shot," and during the evening mingled with many men who were talking of nothing but the prospects of finding oil. Later in the evening, in a hotel, the stranger who had imbibed rather freely became very boisterous and offered to wager any sum that neither oil or gas would be found when the South Branch well was shot.

It was afterwards learned that he was in the employ of the oil trust and that he was sent from Rochester to Towanda to see that the other men in the employ of the trust who were to do the "shooting" work were at their posts, and that there would be no mistakes. It is taken from this that the men who furnished the capital to drill in one of the wells at South Branch were "double crossed," and that they did not have a ghost of a show for their money.

This has long been forgotten, and the two men who are alleged to have blocked the finding of oil at South Branch have gone to their reward, having been killed by premature explosions of nitro glycerine in the oil field of Western Pennsylvania.

In the new operations, however, nothing of this sort is to be feared, for behind the work is a corporation anxious to find oil and gas, and the work will be done by their own men, who can be relied upon, and as before stated, if they do not find oil, it will be because no oil is to be found in Bradford county.

Everybody is hoping that the operators may be successful, for it means a boom in land prices, and an era of prosperity which will go well with the building of the dam in the Susquehanna river near Towanda.

WAS IT A CORPSE OR A REAL TREASURE BOX?

Detective Hollon Investigating Mysterious Transaction.

Detective Guy C. Hollon is investigating what appears to be a real mystery. On Tuesday of last week, the children of B. F. Bixby of Upper Bridge street, returned from a berrying expedition late in the afternoon, and reported to their mother that two men had dug a box out of the hill overlooking John Simmins place, and took it away in an old rickety wagon drawn by a mouse colored horse. Mrs. Bixby went to the place and found where some one had been digging, and there found a key which has been turned over to Detective Hollon. Mr. Bixby also visited the place before notifying the officer.

Wednesday Detective Hollon went to the place and found everything just as it had been reported, and he traced the wagon over the hill and through the fields to a point near the Myers ice pond, where the road was taken, and the tracks lost.

The place from where the box was taken is a lonely, unfrequented spot on the side of a hill overlooking Towanda from the West. The wagon left the place going along the hill and across the field, leaving a plain track.

The children were behind berry bushes when they saw the men lift the box into the wagon, and their presence was not noticed by the strangers. The question arises: What was in the box, and why the secrecy. Detective Hollon will make a thorough investigation.

Practical Gardener.

Chief of Police Miller is proving himself an excellent gardener as well as an efficient and alert police officer. On his little farm on South Main street he has a fine lot of green "sass" growing, and far as can be learned has the earliest garden in the First ward. He has ripe tomatoes, many green ones, all kinds of pumpkins, and a fine squash ready for picking. Cucumbers are big and green and the other products of the land are way up and still growing. First warders say that the genial police chief's success with the spade, hoe and rake comes from taking lessons from 'Squire Meredith, who lives next door.

Stalled on the P., B. & E.

Charles L. Felton, the bookseller of Towanda, is in receipt of a souvenir postcard which will be of interest to those interested in the dam proposition. It is as follows:

Chicago, Ill., July 15.

C. L. Felton, Dickens Book Shop,
Towanda, Pa.

Dear Sir:—Am sorry the dam has not reached you, but feel it is no fault of ours. We shipped structure complete as per your order, on the 10th inst. via the P., B. & E. Must be stalled at some point on that road.

Respectfully,
Shears & Sawbuck.

Iron Canoe.

Rex Wright and George Miller, ingenious young men living at Sayre, are building a canoe which will be a distinct novelty. It is about 15 feet in length and is built of galvanized iron. It has air compartments in the bow and the stern and also under the center seat. When completed the boat will probably be a little lighter than the ordinary canoe.

GOOD TIMES MAY REVIVE PROJECT

In These Lie the Hopes of the Rejuvination of the P. B. & E. Company.

MILES, NOT MULES, SOON TO BE THE GUAGE

Canton Correspondent Writes Interesting to the Philadelphia Record Concerning the Proposed Road—On to Oregon Hill.

More particularly on the assumption that the project is to be rejuvenated, and at least that part of the road necessary to reach the Oregon Hill coal fields, built, a Canton correspondent writing to the Philadelphia Record has the following interesting story about the Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern railroad:

"The visible assets of the famous projected Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern railroad, in a two-minute auction in a local hotel corridor, Friday, were sold for $2,000, the amount going to satisfy an indebtedness held by the purchaser, the American Equipment company, of New York of $13,000. A representative of the company was the only bidder. The assets in question, weatherbeaten, rusty from disuse, and a sorry resemblance to themselves when brought into this section two and a half year ago, were thirty flat cars, six box cars, three cabooses, and two combination baggage and passenger coaches, all bearing the official title of "P., B. & E."

"This is the sum total of the rolling stock of the P., B. & E., except two locomotives which in the early stage of the now famous litigation were taken under their own steam into the Lehigh Valley yards at Towanda, and subsequently were replevined by the firm that had made them. But the 'string or 'rolling stock' which went into 'winter quarters' here when the last dollar of available funds was paid out to the dirt shovelers, have since been on a siding just outside of this town, where in summer they have provided grateful shade for troupes of cattle that grazed along the grassy railroad or stood as silent testimonies to an enterprise which had looked very nice on paper, but which when it came to dump carts, dynamite and rights of way, proved more than the treasury of the promoters would stand There is a $20,000,000 mortgage against the company, and a body of receivers, consisting of Mr. McFadden, of this place; J. P. Reynolds, of Boston; F. C. Leonard, of Coudersport and Clarence L. Peaslee, Esq., of Williamsport, the latter as counsel, are in charge of the affairs of the company.

"On Friday afternoon when Auctioneer W. T. Carey, of Sayre pronounced the flat cars, cabooses and combination coatches, yonder on the grassy siding, to be 'going, going,' and then 'gone,' one might have concluded that the voice of the auctioneer was the last echo of the fate of the Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern. But not so. The receivers declare that at least a portion of the road will be built yet, while only yesterday a report from Towanda had it that men in that town are considering the advisability of buying the old right of way, the portion of road already graded, and the other appurtenances legally to be determined as assets of the road, and turn it into a trolley line between that town and this.

"But that proposition hasn't the solidity back of it that a plan hinted at by the receivers has—and that is that enough of the road will be built to tap the soft coal district in the Oregon Hill region of Lycoming county, in which there is known to be at least twenty years' working of good coal in tested veins of from five to eight feet thick, and of fine quality. This coal bed was the prime object had in view by the original promoters of the company, though the names of Binghamton and Pittsburg were added to the title of the project in order to give it a state-wide swing—and indeed a bona fide survey was made through to both these points and right of way obtained for a big portion of the route. But the actual work of construction was done between this town and Powell a distance of nearly twenty miles, on the greater part of which ties and rails were laid. Now, Powell is the point where the project road has connection with the Susquehanna & New York, and the latter road connects with the Lehigh Valley at Towanda, six miles further on, so that if the western end of the new road could have been pushed on fourteen miles from this point to the edge of the Oregon Hill coal fields, over which a holding company of the Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern has control, the new road could quickly be made to earn its salt, and to take on an importance that would command attention and respect for its larger ambitions.

"The return of better industrial conditions is the salvation of the project and instead of being the death knell of the P., B. & E., as many feared the auction sale of its 'rolling stock' the other day in reality may be only the next legal step through the labyrinth of its financial difficulties out into a clear title under which the road may be rejuvenated and the goal of the Oregon Hill coal veins be duly reached. The delivery of the coal to the Lehigh Valley at Towanda would insure a quick market for all that the new road could haul, and with only fourteen miles remaining to be built the recognized business qualifications of its receivers hold out the hope that it may be accomplished.

"At one time in the history of the new road, almost a year after the delivery here over the Northern Central road of the cars that were sold the other day, nearly a hundred Kentucky mules were brought here by one of the sub-contractors to be used on the portion of construction that had been awarded to him. About the same time a big troupe of foreign workmen were domiciled in shanties just outside of town. The bottom dropped out of the treasury, the men were dismissed, but the mules corralled in a field at the edge of town, ate their heads off for nearly two months, and then they, too, were shipped elsewhere. The braying of the idle, but contented, mules gave rise to a saying of something about the animals being typical of the jackass propensities of the whole P., B. & E. project. But the indications are that the men at the head of the details of the road will show to the slanderers of the project that it's miles, and not mules, that are in the plan."

DAM PROSPECTS ARE BECOMING BRIGHTER.

Stroud Farm Bargained For—Work Progressing Nicely.

Prospects for the dam are becoming brighter, and the local men who are working in the interests of the venture, are very much encouraged. The aforneys at Harrisburg, who are executing the papers, and doing a large share of the legal work, report progress, and everything is favorable.

The Stroud farm on the Towanda flats near the Towanda creek, has been bargained for, and this helps in the situation a whole lot. John Stroud the owner of the farm, when approached some time ago said that he would do what was fair and right, and Friday he made his word good, optioning his place at a figure which is considered reasonable, and which will be recommended to Meikleham & Dinsmore. Mr. Stroud, by his fairness to the investors, wins the hearty commendation of all who are in favor of the building the dam, and that means about 99 out of every hundred. If some of the other landowners would look at the matter in the same light as Mr. Stroud, the building of the dam would be assured, and without delay.

JUDGE ORMEROD REGRETS THE SLAPPING INCIDENT.

Doesn't Excuse Himself For Losing His Temper.

President Judge John Ormerod of Potter county, regrets the incident of Thursday afternoon in which he struck John S. Eckert of Keating Summit, two stinging blows in the face after Eckert had offered him a roll of bills in an endeavor to bribe him into transferring a license. Of the happening the judge now says: "It is one of those regrettable incidents and was most unnecessary I had already told the fellow's attorney, W. F. Dubois, that if he produced the right recommendations he could get the license transferred for which he had applied." Judge Ormerod says that early in the practice of his profession he observed that the lawyer who lost his temper was pretty apt to lose his case, and that it was very unusual for him to act with such impetuosity, but it was the first time in the years he has been on the bench that a hotel man had ever offered him as much as a cigar.

It developes, since the excitement of the moment has passed, that Judge Ormerod did not touch the money. It did not leave Eckert's hand, but the moment the judge comprehended that the hotel man was offering it to him he felt that he was being insulted, and the stinging slaps followed. Eckert is a big, robust man, weighing considerably more than 200 pounds.

The incident recalls an occurance which happened several years ago, when Judge A. C. Olmstead occupied the bench. A similar insult was offered him, which he heartily resented, and as in the present case, the would-be briber failed to get his license.

FRANKLINS AND NAIADS WIN

Towanda Fire Companies Capture Prize Drills at Wellsville Convention.

FORTY-THREE COMPANIES TOOK PART IN THE PARADE

Franklins First and Naiads Second in Drill Contest—Protection Hose Company of Athens, Finest Appearing in the Parade.

The fourteenth annual convention of the Seven County Volunteer Firemens' association came to a close at Wellsville, N. Y. Thursday night after one of the largest attended and most interesting meetings ever held by this flourishing association. Towanda, as in former years, was well represented, the Franklin Steamer company and the Naiad Hose company both being present and taking part in the great parade yesterday morning.

Not only was Towanda well represented, but the fire laddies from the City of Promise covered themselves with glory, the Franklins taking the first prize of $50 in the drill contest, and the Naiads the second prize of $25.

Business Meeting.

The business meeting was held in the Baldwin theatre Wednesday afternoon and nearly every company in the seven counties had representatives. Four of the Towanda companies were represented as follows: Franklin Steamer Company No. 1, Anthony Barrett; Naiad Hose company No. 2, Charles P. Welles; Lin-ta Hose company No. 3, J. B. Gay; Mantua Hook and Ladder Company No. 4, J. J. Williams. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Second Vice President—H. T. Albee Galeton.

Secretary—P. E. Decker, Athens.

Treasurer—C. P. Welles, Towanda.

Executive Committee—C. A. Ennis, Bradford County, Pa; C. H. Collins, Steuben County, N. Y.; M. J. Handwerk, Galeton, Potter County, Pa.; James M. Blair, Tioga County, Pa.; C. J. Fuhes, Allegany County, N. Y.

No towns making a bid for the convention of 1910, it was left with the executive committe to decide.

Big Banquet.

Wednesday evening a banquet was tendered the firemen of Wellsville, and the delegates. Two hundred and forty gathered around the tables. Hon. A. C. Fanning, president judge of the Bradford county courts, one of the guests of honor of the executive committee, delivered a fine address following the banquet. He was one of the speakers engaged by the executive committee.

Fine Parade.

The parade Thursday moring was a magnificient pageant, 43 companies and 21 bands being in line. Over 20,000 strangers witnessed the parade. The Franklins and Naiads of Towanda by their fine drilling along the line of march won the applause of the thousands.

Athens Won Prize.

The Protection Hose company of Athens, was awarded first prize for being the finest appearing company in the parade.

The Bloosburg company won the $10 prize for coming the farthest, outdistancing the Naiads of Towanda by a small margin.

The Races.

Hub and hub race—First division between Crystal Hose, Corning, and Bache Hose, Wellsboro, won by Crystals in22 3-4 seconds; second division, Gale Hose, Galeton, Mist Hose, Blossburg, and Lewis Hose, Wellsboro, won by Gale Hose, time, 22 3-5 seconds. In the finals the Gales, of Galeton, won first money $50, by less than six inches from the Crystals, of Corning, in 22 3-5 seconds. The decision was a hard one for thte judges.

In the hook and ladder race, Gale Hose, of Galeton, won first prize. The 200 yard race, with twenty entries, was won by Harry Betson, Corning; L. V. Bird, Blossburg, second; time, 22½.

200 yard hose race—Crystal City Hose, of Corning, won first money, $50. in the fast time of 28 -45 seconds; Bache Hose, Wellsboro, Pa., second, $25, time, 20 2-5 seconds; Gale Hose, Galeton, third, time, 31 flat; Mist Hose, Blossburg, fourth, time, 31 1-5 seconds.

The Prize Drill.

Three companies besides the Towanda companies were entered for the prize drill, but only the Towanda companies competed. The Franklins, by their perfect maneuvering under the direction of Drillmaster Nagle won the first money, and the Naiads under the leadership of Drillmaster Wilcox took the second prize. Both companies were loudly applauded by the thousands who watched the drill.

Successful Convention.

It was undoubtedly one of the most successful conventions ever held in Southern New York state or Northern Pennsylvania.

The Towanda firemen are loud in their praises of the treatment accorded them by the Wellsville firemen and the thousands of strangers in attendance at the convention.

TWENTY-SEVEN WOMEN IN BREADBAKING CONTEST.

Newark Valley Herald Tells What Made Contest a Success.

In a bread-baking contest at Newark Valley last wek, there were 27 contestants, and the affair attracted a great deal of attention and excited much interest. Commenting on it the Herald of that village preaches a little sermon on advertising that it will pay the average business man to read. It says in part:

"Now what made this contest a success? Anyone who is not a student of the antiquated methods of doing business would say, "Newspaper advertising." It is known that Mr. Bennett used his regular space in the local paper to advertise the contest—giving prizes, conditions, etc.—and of course everyone saw it immediately, for everyone reads the home paper, even if he or she has to borrow it. Now, had Mr. Bennett taken the time to print all this on a box cover and stuck it in the window of his store, how many would have known all about it? The cost of newspaper advertising compared with other methods was trifling, and we infer from the conditions, that he must have sold some flour, and undoubtedly gained several flour customers. Many conceive the idea that they hurt their competitor by advertising. This is a mistake. How many of these contestants who purchased flour of Mr. Bennett left town without buying something of some other merchant? By liberal advertising you help yourself, your neighbor, your town and finally your home paper.

Good at Fishing.

Misses Mary Wild and Bell Spencer, nurses in the Robert Packer hospital at Sayre spent Wednesday in Towanda, the guests of County Detective McCracken and wife. The afternoon was spent in fishing, and the young ladies from Sayre proved themselves expert nimrods. Miss Wild captured a black bass which weighed two and three fourths pounds, and Miss Spencer captured three nice bass, one weighing two pounds. They took 15 nice fish home with them.

MRS. ELIZA M'KEAN DEAD

Bradford County's Oldest Resident Passed Away Sunday Morning at 10:30

WOULD HAVE BEEN 102 YEARS OLD IN NOVEMBER

Remarkable Lady Entered Into the Sleep Eternal As Gently As Night Follows Day—Two Children Survive.

Mrs. Eliza A. McKean, Bradford county's oldest resident, is dead. She passed away at her home on Third street Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, death being due to the infirmities of her advanced age. The end came as peacefully as night follows day. Her two children, LeRoy McKean and Miss Eliza McKean who have tenderly cared for her, were at the bedside when the spirit took flight.

Sketch of Her Life.

Eliza Ann McKean was born Nov. 14, 1807, at Litchfield, Herkimer county, N. Y., therefore had she lived until the coming November, she would have been 102 years of age.

She was the second child of Truman and Olive (Underwood) Merry, her father being a native of Massachusetts and her mother of Connecticut nativity. In the family there were three brothers and four sisters of whom, besides Mrs. McKean, one other is living, Chas D. Merry of Kansas City, Mo., at the age of 86 years. The father died at the age of 84, and the mother at 45.

MRS. ELIZA A. McKEAN.

In 1822 Eliza removed with her father's family from Herkimer county into the wilderness of Troy township near the Burlington line. Here she lived in a log house and experienced all the trials and inconveniences of pioneer times. Having obtained a good education for the times soon after coming into the new country, she was prevailed upon to take a school and thus became one of the earliest teachers in the Sugar Creek valley. She was only a little girl but by her grit and determination succeeded finely. It became necessary to flog some of the large boys and the job was performed with force and dispatch. June 7, 1832 was a happy and eventful day at the Merry homestead. The occasion was the presence of a large number of guests to witness the marriage of Eliza Ann Merry and Col. Allen McKean and enjoy a splendid wedding feast. The ceremony was performed by Judge John McKean, uncle of the groom. The event was particularly pleasing as the two most popular young people in the neighborhood had been mated.

After her marriage Mrs. McKean, as a prudent and diligent helpmate, remained with her husband upon the farm in Burlington, until 1848, when they removed to Towanda, Mr. McKean having been elected Prothonotary. Consequently for over 60 years "Aunt Eliza" had lived among the people of Towanda and by her happy kindly ways earned the love and esteem of all. Some of the older people will never forget the good angel she was years ago, when on Christmas eve with a well laden basket, she was seen going from place to place, bestowing favors and making glad the hearts of the poor. Her life was full of kindly deeds which will long be remembered. Mrs. McKean was a woman of decided force of character, brave and original. In her younger days one of her sources of delight was in being upon the back of a spirited horse. She was a woman of more than ordinary literary attainments and poetical gifts an inveterate reader until deprived of her sight which began failing twelve years ago.

In figure Mrs. McKean was a small woman, never having weighed over 100 pounds and her height not exceeding five feet. Her habits were simple, along the ordinary lines of living, of a woman of great industry and sick but little.

Mrs. McKean had been a widow since 1886. Her husband, Col. Allen McKean was one of the most popular and noted men of the county. He served four terms as Prothonotary, rose to Colonel of Militia, was Captain of an Emergency Company during the Civil War, Clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington and paymaster in the army. Besides he filled various other local offices.

The death of Mrs. Eliza McKean removes a remarkable personage from Towanda and Bradford county, and while numberless friends will learn of her demise with genuine regret, they will at the same time in the fond remembrance of some act of kindness, some good deed of hers, find solace in the thought that she has lived.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, and will be announced later.

REUNIONS.

141st REGIMENT REUNION.

Twenty-Sixth Annual Reunion at Athens on Wednesday, Aug. 25.

The following notices are being sent out to survivors of the 141st Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, who are to meet in Athens next month, and from expressions of interest already received it is believed that this twenty-sixth reunion will be one long to be remembered. The letter announces that the survivors of the grand old 141st Regiment, Pa. Volunteers, will hold their twenty-sixth annual reunion in Athens, Bradford county, Wednesday, August 25. The business meeting will be held in Grand Army hall at 10:30 a. m., at which time every comrade is expected to be present and answer to roll call. An elegant dinner will be served by the ladies of the Baptist church, at the church parlors, from 12 to 2 o'clock.

The public exercises will be held in the Baptist church at 2 o'clock at which time the comrades will be welcomed by the borough officials, and an interesting program will be rendered. Good speaking and singing. The public is invited to attend.

Comrades, the grand old regiment that made such a glorious record in the trying days of '61 to '65 is becoming depleted by the ravages of death. Each year we miss the stalwart form and genial countenance of those who shared with us in campaign, march and battle, and it should be our highest ambition to meet and greet each other at these annual gatherings, to rehearse the story of heroic days and to try to impress its lessons of patriotism upon the rising generation. Athens is intensely patriotic, and we can assure all who attend a hearty greeting. By Command of George W. Kilmer, President. Attest: C. T. Hull, Adjutant.

Varney.

Committee on arrangements: Messrs. Glen Varney, E. J. Varney and Leslie Stone, West Franklin. What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or injurious habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. TAFT'S STATEMENT.

During this tariff-revision session of congress there has been much talk about what the tariff plank in the Republican platform said and meant, and what Mr. Taft said and meant about it when he was making campaign speeches last fall. It was quite generally admitted that while the platform promised revision it did not say revision downward. It did say that the Republican policy was "to preserve without excessive duties, that security against foreign competition," etc. Some, with poor judgment, maintained that Taft in his speeches had not distinctly advised or advocated revision downward, and was not committed to it. The President has preserved silence on the matter for a long time, but he spoke again last week, and in words that are not uncertain has told the country where he stands, what he interprets the party platform to have meant, and what he meant himself by his public utterances. Twenty-three members of congress called at the White House to protest against putting raw materials on the free list, and the President made to them a statement in which he declares that the Republican party is committed to a downward revision; that he has never had any other idea of the Chicago platform, and that he personally has promised a downward revision to the people. This statement is interpreted in some quarters as a direct notification to congress on the tariff bill that if the measure they finally agree upon does not constitute a material reduction in specific duties, the President will exercise his power of veto. Dictated in the third person the statement concludes with this final word on the President's attitude as outlined to his callers: "He felt strongly the call of the country for a revision downward within the limits of the protective principle, and he hoped to be able to respond to that call as he heard it, as well in the interests of the party as of the country."

The President's statement is reassuring, and we believe it is gratifying to a large majority of Republicans throughout the country. There surely has been a sentiment in favor of a downward and not an upward revision, and the President's words serve to fortify the hopes entertained that an honest attempt would be made to give it.

The bill is now in the hands of the conference committee. Just what it was as to rates when it reached the conference committee is somewhat of a poser, for it was a complicated measure and difficult to understand. But quite certain it is that the revision was more up than down. Now will President Taft be able to put into effect his expressed desire to revise downward? And if he is not able to do this, will he veto the bill? We shall know in a few days.

Every now and then it turns out that what is usually considered slang has had classical or at least respectable origin. Probably most people think that "nothing doing" is slang fresh from the mint, but they are in error. July 29, 1856, Mr. Hunter, of Virginia, was addressing the Senate. "There is no appropriation for these rivers," he said. "There has been an appropriation for the survey of the rivers, but there is nothing doing by the general government to them."

The war waged between the New Albany Mirror and the Monroeton Enterprise about the Monroeton celebration of the Fourth has not abated. The Enterprise last week referred to the Mirror's report of the affair as "a gob of slush." This is harsh, indeed, and we fear ill feeling is being engendered. Shut up, you fellows.

Boston has passed St. Louis as the fourth city in the United States, in point of population. Figures compiled by the Board of Health show that the Hub has a population of 624,921, and that in Greater Boston there are 1,95,663 people.

A contemporary truthfully remarks that it is a very good sign when nations begin to take as much pride in commemorating a centenary of peace as the records of a war when they killed each other's men.

EASY VICTIMS NUMBERED.

Every now and then the newspapers contain the particulars of the arrest of a professional bigamist. By professional bigamist we mean a man who makes it his business to court silly women for a few weeks, to marry them, secure their money and disappear. At the present moment such a person is under arrest in San Francisco. According to one newspaper report he admits that he married three women. According to another he acknowledges his guilt and declares that his victims were so numerous he cannot remember how many there were or recall all their names. The latter statement may be exaggerated. Still it is a story by no means imporbable. Similar instances have occurred again and again.

In a matter so important as marriage one would suppose the woman who is almost invariably the chief sufferer in case a mistake has been made, would hesitate long before she gave her happiness and her fortune into the keeping of a comparative stranger. It is not true that all hasty marriages terminate unhappily; it is true, however, that the woman who marries a man of whose past history she knows absolutely nothing takes a tremendous risk. Yet many of them do it every year. The easiest game in the world seems to be that pursued by the adventurer who makes it his business to hoodwink and rob susceptible women. The plausible individual who has a glib tongue and an ingratiating manner can find a willing victim in almost any town in the country. It is an amazing situation, almost incredible that such is the fact. Yet the newspapers have told us again and again of the universal success of the bigmist for versal success of the bigmist for gain.

PITIFUL CONFESSION.

"Every time the Democrats invent a new scheme that is any good the Republicans take it away from them."

The above is from the old Democratic Bradford Argus, of last week. It is a pitiful confession of Democratic weakness. The party cannot "hold fast that which is good." But if the Democratic party really does ever invent anything that is good, and if it is stolen and given to the world by the Republicans, and the world is bettered by it, then we say hurrah for the old Democratic party whether the world gives it credit or not. A good deed cannot die, and if the Argus is right the Democracy is laying up treasure in heaven where moth and rust do not corrupt and where the Republican organization connot break through and steal. It looks to us as if the Democracy's reward was a dead sure thing.

The old Man Weston, aged 71, averaged a fraction more than 38 miles a day for the 105 days of his across-the-continent walk. It would bother many young men to go the 38 miles for one day. The old man's performance has been criticised in the statement that it has done no earthly good. It is a high mark and shows what may be accomplished by practice, strict temperance, and a will power. It is unique and most remarkable, and is illustrative of what the human body is capable of. To make practical illustration of such things is of use to society. The physiologists, and the medical men who weave entertaining stories in the magazines on the wonders of the human body, the physical culturists, the fresh air faddists, and the hosts of writers on the out-door life and related topics, will all study Weston's performance and take careful notes on it, and we shall hear about it in one way and another for years to come. The feat is by no means without its benefit, and a man might easily do worse than to walk across the continent. It may not be going too far to say that most of us know people whom we wish would start on trans-continental foot journeys right now, and walk slow, and forever keep their backs towards the starting point, and walk till they got to their far-off objective point—and not get there until it was too late to ever come back.

Why are all the magazines loaded down with revolver advertisements? The man from Mars would judge by inspection of our magazines' advertising sections that Americans have a passion for automobiles, typewriters, revolvers and soap. And any of us could explain to the Martian our need of all these things except revolvers. Autoes we need for swife travel, typewriters for business and soap for decency, but why revolvers? Yet the advertisement speaks truly. We buy a million a year and the Lord knows what we do with them.—Boston Transcrip.

Anent the fact that from one end of the state to the other the editors of Pennsylvania are devoting attention to ballot box frauds and to the manner in which the spirit of the primary laws was defied at the recent elections, the Scranton Republican says that there is only one remedy that is feasible, and that is by amendment to the present primary laws by the legislature. The recent legislature provided for a commission to revise the election laws of the state.

To date the mortality record of the Glorious Fourth in Bradford county is one death—that of a Sayre lad 13 years old. He died of lockjaw and the disease was caused by the premature explosion of a blank cartridge. A poor way of celebrating the nation's birthday, we say. Not much patriotism, or sanity, or sense, or anything else that is commendable, in it. That boy's life was sacrificed for nothing and to a foolish, insane custom.

WONDERFUL WEALTH.

We have today 80,000,000 of people, occupying 3,000,000 square miles of territory and they own $120,000,000,000 of wealth. On farms valued at $25,000,000,000 we produce annually agricultural porducts valued at $8,000,000,000. It is nothing that we produce annually 2,500,000,000 bushels of corn and 11,000,000 bales of cotton, if there is no demand for the corn and cotton and if the demand is not at a fair return. But we have the market. Our 5,500,000 of people who produce $15,000,000,000 of manufactured products annually, and receive in wages $230,000,000, makes the market. These figures apply only to finished product. We get the products to the consumer by 250,000 miles of railroad, which is three times the railroad mileage of Great Britain, France and Germany combined.

When side tracks are taken into account, we have more railroad mileage than all the rest of the world. On these railroads we have 100,000 engines, carrying millions of cars and hauling 2,000,000,000 tons of freight. This practically equals all the tonnage carried by all the railroads and all the ships of all the rest of the world. This monstrous task is performed by 5,500,000 of employes who are yearly paid $2,300 000,000, and this vast business is conducted by $150,000,000,000 of bank clearances. Do we prosper? Only two decades ago we were second to Great Britain in the output of iron and steel. Today our output equals all the rest of the world. We live well and have happy homes, filled with comforts and luxuries. Yet we are a saving people. We have in savings banks $3,500 000,000, in national banks $4,500,000,000 and in state banks $5,000,000 000—in all. $13,000,000,000. The per capita of money in the country is larger than in any other save one, France, and amounts to $35 for each of our 80,000,000 people. The business of the country amounts to over $3,000,000,000 annually. How do we do such a monstrous business which is also profitable? It is because we have confidence in ourselves and the other nations of the globe have confidence in us.

An expected revolution in agriculture has been based on the discovery long ago made by Hellriegal, that the root nodules of leguminous and some other plants absorb nitrogen directly from the air. Another natural method of fixing atmosphere nitrogen has now been pointed out by Jamieson, a British experimenter, who has found that the hairs covering many plants absorb nitrogen, convert it into albumen, and then wither and become absorbed into the plant. Or a series of sections, treated with stains acting on albumen, the microscope traced very clearly the migration of the nitrogen taken up Experiments on various trees in Hungary confirm this discovery and indicate that this way of plant feeding is very general.

Notwitnstanding the great Metchnik off and Dr Distaso of Paris, who have made a bitter attack on man's "inwards" and allege that a part of them are entirely superfluous, and that man could live longer without them, we believe the majority of people will stick to the large intestine for a while yet. The average person will feel that it would be unwise, without more knowledge, to try to get along without it. Anent this matter the Philadelphia Record says—"If we would all be better off and live longer and enjoy more life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness without the appendix and the large intestine, will the medical faculty please explain to us how these things got into use? Is it a fact that nature does not understand her business?"

The death of Ann Eliza McKean in this city on Sunday morning last removes a good woman, and the oldest resident of Bradford county. Hers was the simple life, but in years past it was strenuous if it was simple. A kind and good heart, that took life as it came, contented with her lot, and intent on doing her duty in that state of life to which it had pleased God to call her. Her advanced age attracted especial attention to her in her later years. Her earthly life was nearly 102 years—a long increase to the Scripture three score and ten, but she has entered another life in which 102 years is but "a watch in the night." Peace to her ashes.

An Indiana Judge takes a sensible view on the question of the obligation of Townships to transport school children in rural districts to and from their homes. He avers that it is much more healthful for the children to ride "shank's mare," just as their fathers and mothers and grandparents did before them. Not only will walking keep them in better physical condition but it should operate to make them more appreciative of their education. Recall, the sturdy, clear eyed, keen brained citizens of a day before artificialties played so prominent a part in our affairs. They walked to school.

Don't go into a newspaper office and ask the editor to roast somebody. You don't know how it looks or you wouldn't do it. Here's a parallel case. You step to a friend and say, "Bill, I wish you'd go over there and give that fellow a good cussing for me. I'm a little afraid to do it myself."

As was expected the Franklins and Naiads carried off the drilling honors at the Wellsville convention, Towanda people have reason to be, and are, justly proud of their fire department. When it comes to drilling and fighting fires, Towanda firemen have it on all the boys.

VERY SATISFYING.

The news received last week on Wednesday that the Superior court of the state had decided that the verdict of the jury and the rulings in the court below in the case of William P. Snyder and James M. Schumaker would stand, was satisfying to the people of Pennsylvania. There is now a probability that these two men will go to jail and serve sentences of two years, unless the Supreme court shall interfere in their behalf and save them, which is not thought probable. The charge on which they were convicted was conspiracy and fraud in the building of the new state capitol, and their trial occurred early in 1908. Snyder was auditor general during most of the time the capitol was being built and finished, and Schumaker was superintendent of public buildings and grounds. They applied at once for a new trial, which the trial court refused. They then appealed to the Superior court, with the result above noted.

As said before, the decision is satisfying to the people. Conspiracy is hard to prove and the case was full of technicalities that might have wrecked it if the court had been inclined to magnify legal objections and ignore substantial justice. Cases in which influential criminals have escaped justice have been numerous enough to give rise to the fear that the capitol graft offenders might go unpunished. The people knew they had been robbed and there was a general belief that the robbers had been caught, and a fear that they might yet go free. The Superior court's decision is received with approval, and there is a demand that the trial of the eight other indicted men proceed.

That the fell sergeant, death, is strict in his arrests and does not wait for legal processes and summons is proved by the fact that two offenders —Sanderson, contractor, and Mathues, state treasurer, both of whom were convicted at the same time that Schumaker and Snyder were, have already passed to a higher Court, where technicalities cannot aid and where no injustice can prevail.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

Most of us believe in the educational value of discipline. We likewise concede that many studies which may not be of direct practical benefit in the business of earning a living are very useful by way of disciplining and training the mental faculty. We concede all that is said by the admirers of the classics concerning their use in after life. We would be very glad if all the boys and girls in the land could take all the disciplinary studies there are in the books. It would be an advantage to them.

But the majority of our boys are only destined to spend a few years in school. They are not to take a course in college They are not to become members of the learned professions They are going to be mechanics or laborers or farmers and at a very early period they will pass out of the school into the arena of active life. What they need above everything else now is an education that will be of direct use to them in the beginning of their career.

That's the reason an increasing number of Americans favor the idea of industrial education in all the schools of the country. They believe in beginning in one of the lower grades and carrying it through all the other grades to the end. It is the conviction of many that the boy who knows how to use his hands, the girl who understands something about housekeeping, will be pretty certain to get along in the world.—Altoona Tribune.

ITTLE THINGS AND HEALTH

Many comments have been called forth by the results of an investigation into the condition of the teeth of some hundreds of school children in New York city. It was found that in a great majority of instances these pupils were in urgent need of skilled dental treatment—and bad teeth, as everybody knows, exert an injurious effect upon the whole system, not only causing pain to their owner, but bringing about incomplete mastication, usually followed by imperfect digestion.

This, however, is only one among many causes which bring after them a whole train of bodily ills. A host of the ailments in our daily life spring from sources which seem comparatively trivial. Neglect of the eyes, failure to take sufficient exercise, unhygienic diet, sleeping in a badly ventilated room—these all produce evils which may ultimately lead to serious consequences.

A marked advance would be scored if more persons could be brought to realize how much health depends upon little things. It is far better to prevent disease at its inception than to wait until sickness comes.

Missionary work for good roads during the past ten years is beginning to bear fruit. Road building is becoming a science, and instead of having work done under the incompetent direction of county or town officials, the states are assuming the responsibility of control, with excellent results.

Except as social surgery divorce is reprehensible. Like surgery, it should be used only when unavoidable. Its use to open the way to a vagrant or criminal fancy is a foul wrong to society and criminal abuse of the social surgery of divorce.—Philadelphia Press.

"The judge told Evelyn gently, but at the same time firmly," reads a line in a New York paper. To which the Washington Herald adds: "More piffle and punk to come from Sob Squad, probably."

COMMENDABLE ACT.

We want to commend the action in the matter of the finding of the body of an unknown youth on the railroad tracks near Rummerfield early last Saturday morning.

There was not a scrap of paper or anything to help in identifying the corpse, and while the indications were that he was a tramp who met death under the wheels, yet he has been treated as if in life he had been a millionaire.

No expense or trouble has been spared in endeavoring to locate the parents or relatives of the unfortunate youth, and when he went to his grave in Potter's field yesterday, unidentified and unmourned, it was only after every effort had been made to locate relatives or friends without avail. In the larger cities and in many sections of the country unidentified bodies are buried and that is the end of it but not so in Towanda.

With the burial of the corpse the effort to find relatives did not cease, but photographs and descriptions have been sent broadcast in the hopes of locating relatives of the dead youth in life he may have been only a tramp but perhaps in some cottage a dear old mother, or longing father is waiting for the return of the boy who has crossed the dark river and now sleeps in an unmarked grave in Potter's field.

The untiring efforts to locate relatives and identify the corpse, is commendable to say the least.

ABOUT ROADS.

Crushed stone orads in Wayne county, where properly made, have improved conditions very much says the Honesdale Herald. These roads cost but a fractional part of what the State roads have cost and when expense is compared many believe that they will prove more durable than State roads. For wagon or automobile they measure up to every expectation. Texas township and Mount Pleasant each have constructed roads of this kind that should serve as object lessons.

In a trip across Wayne county last week it was our privilege to drive over about a mile of the stone road in the vicinity of Spencer & Fowler's Mills, Niagara, and again between Prompton and Seelyville. It was a great pleasure to ride over them. It was actually a hardship to drop off and travel again upon the ordinary dirt road with its irregularities as to grade and surface. Wayne county should have more stone roads; main thoroughfares, at least, should be macadamized. The heavy steam roller is almost indispensable in order to build these roads properly, but they are expensive. If several townships were to combine and purchase the roller it would do the work for all and thus lighten the burden of expense.

It is not always a "snap" to be a school director, as some appear to think. See the suit at law now being heard by Judge Fanning to oust the Wysox township directors. If you are a school director you must not only attend to the big duties of the position, such as hiring the teachers and seeing to it that they attend to business, etc., but you must screen the stove look after the thermometer, whitewash the outbuildings, file your affidavit of election expenses and dozens of other things too numerous to mention. The hard time the Wysox directors are having should reconcile defeated candidates to their lot. It is easier to have the voters keep you out at the polls than to have aggrieved parties turn you out after you are in.

Say, folks, do you know this world lives just because it keeps going. The earth keeps turning over and over and keeps rolling round the sun—and that is all there is to day and night, Summer and Winter, seed time and harvest, birth and death. It all follows, this endless porcession of the years, just because this old earth keeps a-going. And that's about all the secret there is to life, to success, to achievement, to anything. Just do your best and keep going. Every path leads somewhere and men who succeed are men who start and just keep on.

Be natural. Do not try to impress people with your importance. If you are really important they will find it out. If you are of no account you will not deceive anyone by acting as though great interests rested in your keeping. The day of pomposity is past, we hope never to return. More people than ever before are intelligent and able to judge those with whom they come in contact. This means that they are able to judge you and place a true rather than a false estimate on your abilities.

The Book Trust association gets in some good work—for the Book Trust. A change in text books in Scranton last year cost the taxpayers of that city $21,000. There is a general belief that many changes of this kind bring no improvement over former conditions.

"Aldrich is a good listener," says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The wonder is he never seems to hear that "still, small voice."—Washington Herald.

The old fashion of marrying and giving in marriage continues as great a favorite as ever, in spite of the discouraging activity of the modern divorce courts, says the Altoona Tribune.

As to whether the Aldrich bill lowers the tariff rates it all seems to depend on whether figures lie or liars figure.—Indianapolis News.

There was but one bidder, the American Equipment company, one of the largest creditors, and the rolling stock was bid in by representatives of that company. The property struck down consisted of 30 flat cars, six freight cars, and a combination passenger and baggage car. The bid of the Equipment company is not made public.

Representatives of the American Equipment company, who are very familiar with the affairs of the P. B. & E. are of the opinion that it is only a question of a short time until work is renewed on the porposed road and pushed to completion. "Too much money in that partly completed road bed from Powell to Canton to not proceed with the work at some not distant date ," said one of them yesterday.

Smoking Goat.

Tricky dogs, if not trick dogs in the real sense are common in Towanda as elsewhere, but a Scranton man has them skinned on goats. This unusual man has an unusual goat just two months old that can smoke cigarettes like a true sport, climb a perpendicular ladder, call the iceman, balance a glass of water on his head while standing on his fore-feet and do other sundry tricks of a very ungoatlike nature. Just why the owner of this remarkable goat does not exhibit his possession in vaudeville is not known, but perhaps he will appear in the future and we may view the trick goat with the other animals and human freaks that now frequent the stage.

Blood poisoning developed and death ended his sufferings Tuesday.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Towanda, Like Every City and Town in the Union Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and the cure is lasting.

W. H. Westbrook, four miles from Towanda, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are not a new remedy to me, as I used them about six years ago and they brought me undoubted benefit. I had been troubled a great deal by backache previous to that time and had doctored and used various remedies without receiving any permanent benefit. When I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills I porcured a box at Dr. C. H. Porter & Son's Pharmacy and they gave me so much relief that I continued taking them and when I had used three boxes, the pains entirely disappeared. Since that time I have given Doan's Kidney Pills to one of my children who was troubled by a weakness of the kidneys and they gave prompt and lasting benefit."

SHELTON'S ACTIVES TOO ACTIVE FOR WYALUSING.

Went the Down River Boys Just One Good on East Side Lawn.

Shelton's Towanda Actives proved just one point too good for the Wyalusing ball team in a little argument held in the early afternoon of Tuesday on the East side lawn. The score was 6 to 5, and the joy of the local exponents of the national game was correspondingly joyful.

For the Actives Forbes manipulated the horsehide sphere, and he did great work, striking out eight men in three innings. He was finely supported behind the bat by Bazzett. Pretty features of the play were the one hand stop by Devlin and a running catch by Post for the Actives, while not to be outdone Stalford of Wyalusing, duplicated Post's sprint with the same result. McCracken of Towanda, was right there with the stick, getting three hits out of five time at bat, also Kid Corbett was there with some fancy stunts. The Wyalusing battery were Kisner and Vaughn, and their work was "up to snuff", but their support was a trifle weak.

There was a good crowd present to encourage the home team, and knocking was conspicuous by its absence. Walker umpired. The score by innings:

Towanda .....2 0 1 1 0 0 1 1 x—6
Wyalusing .....3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—5

Struck out by Forbes, 12; by Kisner, 10. Hits 7 off each pitcher. Errors: Towanda 3, Wyalusing 6. Two base hits, Wyalusing 3.

"Over the Hills to the Poorhouse."

Mrs. Emily English of Athens, who has figured in court news several times, has been taken to the county house at Burlington. The fact that she is ill and without money or friends having made it necessary to take steps to provide her with shelter and care. It will be remembered that only a few months ago Mrs. English sustained alleged injuries by being thrown from a trolley car as she was alighting in front of the Forrest house in Athens. The case was tried at a recent term of court and judgment obtained against W. S. & A. Traction company in a sum exceeding three thousand dollars. The case would have been appealed but was finally settled the company paying over a sum somewhat less than that called for by the judgment.

Auto Damaged.

While coming from Athens to Towanda Thursday morning in his auto, W. E. Dayton met with an accident which puts his machine out of business for a time. At the foot of the narrows South of Ulster, a tire burst, throwing the car to the left of the road, striking a telephone pole just as it was brought to a standstill. The rear wheel struck it hard, bending the axle. Mr. Dayton had full control of the car and brought it to a standstill quickly and thus avoided a more serious accident.

SNAKOLOGY

By I. M. Agination, Esq.

Professor Pratt's Thriller.

Prof. David S. Pratt, a member of the Cornell faculty, who is spending the Summer with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. Manville Pratt of Towanda, had an exciting experience with a blacksnake in Asylum township late Sunday afternoon. With a party of friends he was motoring in the beautiful country and when near the famous Summit View health resort, came upon a blacksnake lying across the road. Prof. Pratt was driving the car, and made a desperate attempt to stop before striking the snake, but only succeeding in halting the car after he had run the front wheels over the reptile. The car had hardly ceased chugging, when there was a fearful report, and the head and about three feet of the snake's body was seen whirling through the air. An examination showed that the snake had wound itself around the wheel, and then had attacked the pneumatic tire. Sinking it's front teeth into the rubber, releasing the air causing an explosion which tore the snake's head and a part of it's body away, killing it instantly. Astonished by the fact that while considerable portion of the snake's body had blown away, and that the tail of the serpent was not in sight, being hidden in the grass on the opposite side of the road. Prof. Pratt armed himself with a heavy wrench and started to find the snake's tail. After a long walk in the gathering gloom, he came to the end of the reptile which was in a large field in Terry township. Retracing his steps he had no difficulty in finding his way back to the automobile, simply following along the snake's body. He put on a new tire, and started for home, reaching Towanda after midnight. An attempt was made to tow the snake's body by hitching it to the automobile, but after tugging on it some time, stretching it rather than moving it, Prof. Pratt cut it loose letting it fly back out of sight of travelers.

Tuesday afternoon Charles Simon of Myersburg, killed a jet black snake which measured eight feet and four inches in length.

Four children coming off Rockwell's hill near Monroeton, attempted to kill a large blacksnake by jumping on it's body. Three of the youngsters were carried along at lightning pace for considerable distance before they were able to dismount from the reptile's back.

The other day Mrs. D. L. Platt of Herrickville, while walking in the yard in front of her home discovered a blacksnake of unusual size. The plucky lady secured a garden hoe and a battle royal was commenced. His snakeship did not propose to surrender without a contest and for some moments there were advances, retreats and flank movements. Finally a well-directed strike with the hoe put the reptile out of the fight. A measure was secured and the snake was found to be five feet and eight inches long.

Exhibited in Towanda Barber shops Wednesday was a live rattlesnake captured by a berry picker on Hatch mountain. Rattlesnakes are not uncommon, even in Towanda, but this poisonous reptile evidently has been experimented upon by some amateur surgeon. The rattles which nature furnished the snake with are gone, and in their stead is a long, round tin box, with compartments, each containing a small pebble. The box has been fitted to the snake's tail, and has been there long enough so that it has grown fast, and is doing just as good service as the natural rattles performed. The snake is very fascinating, with flashing black eyes, pearly fangs, darting cherry red tongue, and rattle box music accompaniment.

Yesterday morning, E. W. Elwell freight agent, was exercising a trotting horse, and while out on the road took a little drive to Monroeton, going across the Towanda flats, past Woodside and up the East side of Towanda creek. According to D. C. DeWitt, Esq., Mr. Elwell found a number of people in an excited condition along the road, and when he begged to inquire the cause of the commotion, one of the men pointed to a mark across the road which Mr. Elwell declared had been made by the drawing of a log across the thoroughfare. The men who were gathered in a sort of council of war, declared by all that it is good and bad that the mark was made by a black snake, for they had seen the reptile in flight, and knew it crossed the road on account of the big cloud of dust which went up. Crushed stone will be used to fill in the ditch alleged to have been made in the road by his snakeship.

NEW PENNSYLVANIA SALARY ACT IS TO HAVE TESTING.

Naticoke Burgess Brings Suit to Recover Salary of $70 Per Month.

An unusual case, which will test the new salary act and be watched with interest throughout the State, was started Friday, when attorney Thomas Butkiewicz in behalf of James Cooney, burgess of Nanticoke, filed a petition before Judge Fuller, asking for an alternative mandamus on Stanley Drapicwski, treasurer of the borough, to compel the latter to pay the burgess a salary of $70 a month as fixed by borough ordinance.

It seems that when Burgess Cooney took office his salary was $50 a month as fixed by an old ordinance. Later a new ordinance, approved on the 6th of July was passed, increasing the salary of the burgess from $50 to $70 a month, but the treasurer refuses to pay the increase under the law, which says that the salary of an official cannot be increased during his term of office.

The suit is in the nature of a test case, as answer to the writ was also filed yesterday by Attorney R. B. Sheridan, representing the borough treasurer. The answer admits that the facts in Mr. Cooney's petition are true and correct, but sets forth that the ordinance increasing the salary of the burgess is illegal, as section 13 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides: "No law shall extend the term of any public officer, or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment.

The defendant treasurer sets forth that it is his duty to prevent the unlawful disbursement of public money, and he refused to pay the increase. Judge Fuller took the papers and fixed Aug. 2 as the time for a hearing.

WORTH KNOWING.

Superior Court Decisions of Interest to the General Public.

It appears from two decisions lately made by the Superior Court of htis State that the owner of a horse has still some rights with regard to the actions of other people tending to frighten the same. In other words, brass bands and automobiles, under these decisions, have to be handled with care.

In the brass band case, the Court practically held that a brass band had no right to take its stand at the intersection of two streets, gather a crowd around it and play with their drums and horns in such a way as to frighten the horse of a man driving by at the time.

In the case of the automobiles, the Court held that the operator of an automobile had no right to discharge from the same a volume of vapor with a hissing sound and strong odor in such a way as to frighten a horse standing near by.

It looks as though the Court had commenced to take cognizance of these matters and to hold persons occupying the streets and making unusual noises frightening horses to a strict accountability for their acts and it would be wise for persons so offending against the public to take notice.

Epsie and Clyde Seese, of Johnstown, went to a fire station in their sleep and told the firemen that their home was on fire. The fire laddies put the little sleep-walkers to bed and went to investigate but found no fire. The children were taken back home by their parents.

Joseph Beveridge of Philadelphia, while riding on a scenic railway, rose to adjust his coat and losing his balance fell through the air 40 feet. In his wild flight he grabbed another rail and was holding on to it when another came along and crushed his right hand and so badly mangled his left arm that it may have to be amputated.

By order of Judge F. J. Kooser William Brant, J. F. Reiman and Aaron F. Swank, former poor directors of Somerset county must each return $375 paid themselves as "back salary" after an act of assembly had increased their salary from $50 to $300 a year. They attempted to pay themselves for service under the new law before it became operative.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brownstein of Philadelphia, on returning to their home where they had left their three children asleep, found that the house was afire and their offspring were at the second story window crying for aid. The mother rushed into the burning building and was returning to the street when she became overcome with smoke and in turn had to be rescued. The father saved the third child.

Robert Billet of Lamar, was on his way to the market at Lock Haven and having a heavy load of produce, stopped to allow his horse to rest. An individual approached him and said: "I want your money." Billet pretended not to hear and the would-be highwayman came a little closer and repeated his demand. Billet let his fist fly at the fellow, remarking, "all right," and then whiping up his horse flew from the scene, the victor.

A certain man rented the George Noerr dwelling in Punxsutawney this spring and planted a nice garden. Finding that he desired to change his location he decided to sell his produce. No buyer came to the front and so the family destroyed all the growing vegetables on the plot, uprooting them. Being too late to plant another garden, Mr. Noerr may have difficulty in finding another tenant, and according to attorneys has a clear case for damages. The law of the state declares that any vegetation planted on a plot is real estate, unless the tenant uses this produce before his lease expires. Therefore this tenant in truth destroyed Mr. Noerr's property.

WYSOX TOWNSHIP SCHOOL TROUBLES BEING AIRED.

Judge Fanning Hearing Evidence Supporting Motion to Oust Directors.

An airing of trouble between the school directors of Wysox township and a number of citizens and taxpayers of that district, was started Monday before Judge Fanning in court room No. 2. At 6 o'clock last evening adjournment was taken until Friday, or some other time agreeable to parties interested.

This is the case in which a number of citizens and taxpayers filed a petition with the court asking that Bird Shores, L. D. Bartlett, A. K. Webb and Frank R. Allis be removed from the office of school directors of Wysox township, on the grounds that they neglected their duties and violated the law in several instances.

Monday five additional reasons were filed for their removal. They are: That the directors failed to visit schools regularly while they were in session; failed to have themometers in all the school buildings; failed to put screens around stoves; failed to whitewash and cleanse out houses; and lastly that Bird Shores, L. D. Bartlett, and A. K. Webb failed to qualify for office through not filing affidavits of election expense accounts. These additional reasons for removal were filed Monday because the petitioners claimed they had no knowledge of them at the time of filing their first list of reasons.

The petitioners side of the case was opened Monday and under objection A. K. Webb, Bird Shores and F. R. Allis, three of the defendant school directors were examined by Rodney A. Mercur, who is attorney for the petitioners. The examination of the three witnesses consumed the entire session. Lilley & Wilson represent the defendant directors.

SUPERIOR COURT AFFIRMS BRADFORD COUNTY COURT

New Law Made in Case Carried Up By Singer Sewing Machine Co.

The Superior court has affirmed Judge Fanning in the case of the Singer Sewing Machine company vs. Grant R. Follett.

This case comes from Sayre. Grant R. Follett leased a building to an agent for the Singer Sewing Machine company, and after a time levied on agent's goods, including several sewing machines which were sold to pay the rent. The Singer company forbade the sale, and asked Judge Fanning to find in their favor, claiming that the proceedings instituted and carried out by Mr. Follett were irregular, and that the appraisers who acted in the premises were not freeholders.

The estate of one of these appraisers was encumbered, and the other owned no real estate in Pennsylvania, but did have property in New York state. Judge Fanning ruled that both were competent, whereup the Singer company through it's attorneys, Hoyt & Schrier, carried the case to the Superior court.

The points involved were very delicate, never having been passed upon before in this state, and new law has been made by the Superior court in it's finding. Here is the opinion of the Superior court:

One of the requisite qualifications of appraisers in a distress for rent is that they shall be "reputable freeholders:" Act of March 21, 1772, sec. 1, 1 Sm. L. 370. An examination of the decisions defining the terms freeholder, and freeholder of the county, shows that the meaning to be ascribed to them in the construction of statutes depends to some extent on the context, and the purpose for which the qulification is prescribed. For example, having regard to these considerations, it has been held in some cases outside this commonwealth involving the interpretation of the latter term that residence in the county is the essential qualification, in others that it is the ownership of a freehold situate in the county. So in interpreting the term "freeholder" in the section of the act of 1810 relating to stay of execution it was held in Clippinger v. Creps, 2 Watts 5, that it was to be presumed that the legislature intended it to be understood as it was defined in the earlier act of 1725. "When a subsequent act," said Rogers J." dispenses with bail from a freeholder, which it exacts from others, we are to take it that the legislature has reference to freeholders as understood in the statute." But we know of no Pennsylvania decision which holds that to be qualified as an appraiser of goods distrained for rent the freeholder's estate must be absolutely unincumbered, or that it must be situate in the commonwealth. Nor do we se any substantial ground for adding either of these qualifications by judicial construction to those that the legislature has seen fit to prescribe. In the present case the appraiser whose qualifications are principally questioned was a resident of the borough as well as of the county wherein the goods were destrained and the appraisment was made, and was the owner of real estate in fee in an adjoining county in the state of New York. The court held that he was a freeholder, not only at common law but also within the meaning of the statute, and that conclusion is concurred in by the majority of the judges of this court who heard the case.

The assignments of error are overruled and the judgment is affirmed.

H. F. Maynard of Athens, was attorney for the defendant, Mr. Follett.

Frogs "Soused" on Hard Cider.

A news dispatch from Owego says: "Acting under the direction of the State Excise Department, Sheriff Fremont Kirk went to Candor and proceeded to destroy the five casks of cider, which were recently condemned by a Tioga County jury as being really Simon-pure apple juice, fermented to a degree that would produce exhilaration, intoxication and several other varieties of sensation. The cider was seized by the sheriff several months ago on the premises of Ernest Dumond, and had been stored in Candor pending due process at law. The sheriff took the casks to a swamp near by, smashed in the heads and emptied the cider into the muck. It is said that the frog chorus in that vicinity last evening had an extremely tipsy lilt to its melody and the favorite selections were "Sucking Cider Through a Straw." "Under the Anheuser Bush," and "Oold Heidleburg."

Big Cheese.

A cheese weighing 1,950 pounds was shipped from Utica last wek for Chicago. This cheese was made at Lowville, taking nearly 20,000 pounds of milk and is the largest ever turned out in that section, though some weighing as high as 1,200 have been made at the Lowville factory. This cheese measures 45 inches across and 32 inches high.

City grocers buy a cheese of this sort as an advertisement. After displaying it for a time, they advertise to cut it on a certain date and all are anxious to get a slice of the "largest cheese ever made."

LOSES BOTH LEGS THROUGH PECULIAR DISEASE.

Williamsport Man Undergoes Second Operation—Odd Case.

A particularly sad case is that of Alderman Canby S. Wilkinson, of Wilkes-Barre, who yesterday morning suffered the amputation of his left leg, the right leg having been amputated about two years ago. Mr. Wilkinson is sixty-two years of age and until two years ago enjoyed good health. At that time he was seized with a disease particularly difficult of diagnosis, the most noticeable feature of which was the failure of the blood to circulate below the knee in the right leg.

The complaint would not yield to treatment and it was finally found necessary to amputate the limb just above the knee, because of the setting in of gangrene. The operation was performed by Dr. Bell at the Williamsport hospital. Mr. Wilkinson was apparently free from any further effects of his puzzling illness until about three weeks ago when he noticed by the same startling symptoms in his remaining leg that had necessitated the first amputation.

Dr. Nutt was called, but the disease ran the same course as in the former attack, finally resulting in gangrene. The unfortunate man was taken to the Williamsport hospital and operated upon by Dr. Nutt Thursday morning, an amputation being necessary just above the knee.

MADE HIT AT WELLSVILLE.

Judge Fanning and Representative Mills Receive Favorable Mention.

At the banquet of the Seven County Volunteer Firemen's association in Wellsville, N. Y., last Wednesday evening, Judge Fanning of Towanda, and Hon. C. E. Mills of Athens, made big hits with the firemen. This is what the Wellsville Reporter says about them:

"Hon. A. C. Fanning of Towanda, President Judge of the 42nd district of Pennsylvania, responded to Toastmaster Thornton's address of welcome. Judge Fanning is an enthusiastic admirer of volunteer firemen and his remarkably eloquent tribute to them and to Wellsville as their host was much enjoyed. He spoke with earnestness and wisdom, and the interest which he displayed in coming here from Towanda to speak at the banquet was highly appreciated."

"Hon. Charles E. Mills, of Athens, Pa., member of Assembly from Bradford county, was the last speaker, Congressman Vreeland and William B. Sullivan of Wellsboro, being unable to be present. Mr. Mills made an admirable impression. He is a humorist and an eloquent talker and in his speech joined the serious and the gay, the significant and the frothy so admirably that he made the biggest kind of a hit."

"Assemblyman Mills of Bradford county, Pa., distinguished himself in the parade as well as at the banquet. He was in charge of the handsome Protection Hose of Athens and maintained a real military bearing thruout, looking neither to right nor left when accosted by the huzzas of the populace.

Hypothetical Question.

A hypothetical question is going the rounds. It is: Did Dan Wilcock cause or prevent a serious accident? Dan, who weighs a little over 300 with his necktie on, was in the Dayton auto when it was wrecked on the Ulster narrows Thursday morning, and he claims that his gallant work at ballast ing is what saved the car from complete wreck and the occupants from injury. Automobile experts declare that if Dan had not been in the rear seat at the time the rear wheel struck the telephone pole, the pole would not have been split from top to bottom and the rear axle would not have been bent nearly double. It is a hard question, which will probably have to be submitted to a board of arbitrators.

Gibson Realizes Fate.

At last after over a month Michael Gibson, the Lehigh brakeman who fell from a car at Buffalo on May 31 and broke his neck, realizes his fate. He has not yet been told that his neck is broken and that he cannot live. From the first he thought the numbness to his body would disappear. But he now realizes that instead of growing stronger he is daily becoming weaker and he realizes that earth is short for him. He has not yet been told the exact nature of the difficulty, he has not asked how long he has to live but his acute mind now realizes that his days are numbered. The mystery is that he should live so long when his only working organs are his brain, his heart and his lungs.—Sayre Times-Record.

Very Odd.

Says the Tunkhannock Republican: "As an old coincidence, Charles Dietrich sold two monuments to two men within an hour one day last week, both selecting the same design, and both remarking that they did not need a monument yet, but thought best to have one put up before they died. When he took their names he found one to be Waters and the other Walters. The sales were made separately, and neither purchaser knew the other was buying."

MOB BEATS TO DEATH A FIGHTING FOREIGNER.

Man Italian Who Shot Two Americans Pursued and Killed.

One man dead, one dying and one slightly injured is the result of a race riot which took place between foreigners and Americans at a picnic in Browntown, near Pittston, late Saturday night. Antonio Mariano, a foreigner, got into a quarrel with some young Americans and fired into the crowd. The bullet hit Charles Scott in the neck, and it is feared he cannot survive. Mariano made good his escape, but later returned to the picnic grounds. Scott's friends soon noticed him and determined to have revenge, closed in on him. Mariano again pulled his revolver and fired, the bullet hitting Joseph Butler in the arm. The foreigner then fled with a mob of the Americans close on his heels.

Great secrecy is being maintained as to just what happened in the darkness, but shortly afterward Mariano's body, with a terribly mutilated face and head, was found in a field. Some bloodsmeared stones close by gave evidence of the manner in which the angry crowd had wreaker its vengeance. There is a bullet hole in his head and an effort is being made to use a suicide theory to hide the real crime. State police have taken charge of the case.

The fight started, it is alleged, because the Americans objected to Mariano standing on the dance platform.

REMOVED TO HIS HOME.

Levi Stalford of Wyalusing, Has Had Five Operations.

Says the Sayre Times-Record: "Levi Stalford, having submitted to five operations at the Robert Packer hospital since the first of this year was taken to his home in Wyalusing Sunday morning.

"He was accompanied to his home by Dr. Farr of the hospital force and by his mother and sister. Stalford is far from being a well man. Stones are still passing nearly every day from his bladder causing him to suffer great agony. He has passed enough stones alone to kill an ordinary man. But the worst of his condition is that he has a bad fistula. After the last operation, when a Murphy button was removed from him, a small tube was formed by nature, extending from the incision in his intestine to the incision in his abdomen. Through this tube the contents of his intestine constantly leak. Months will be required to close that tube. After one of his previous operations a tube was thus formed and three months were required to close it. As he is not as strong now as then, it is probable that in this instance a longer time will be required before the fistula closes. When the fistula and the bladder stones have been overcome then months will be required for his system to build up for, as over 10 feet of his intestines have been removed, thus decreasing his assimilating powers, he will not obtain the benefit of his food.

"Stalford was a medical student when he found it necessary to submit to the first operation and the experience he obtained in medical college will enable him to assist much in caring for the fistula. Dr. Sturdevant of Wyalusing will now become his regular attending physician. It was because he desired to be at his own home, because he is tired of months and months of life in a hospital that he was removed to Wyalusing Sunday.

After 60 Years.

Separated 60 years ago, when they left school to make their way in the world, 'Squire Laubach, of Hazleton, and Asa Douglass, of Wilkes-Barre, although living but 30 miles apart, did not meet again until a few days ago, when they came together in Hazleton. They had lost track of each other for years. Some months ago Mr. Douglass read an item in a paper to the effect that the 'Squire subsists entirely on milk. He began correspondence, but neither found time to visit the other until recently, when Mr. Douglass decided to come to town to renew boyhood acquaintances and exchange reminiscences of a busy life.

Five shot passed through his left hand, two through his right shoulder, one through his right shoulder, one through his neck, another knocked out two teeth, one went through his leg, three made wounds in his breast, there being besides two slight wounds in the left side. If there is a soldier in the county who got more rebel lead than this at one dose, and still lives, we are unacquainted with him.

BODY OF YOUTH KILLED BY CARS STILL UNIDENTIFIED.

Many People Recognize Him, Only to Find Supposed One Alive.

The body of the young man found on the Lehigh tracks between Rummerfield and Standing Stone early Saturday morning, is still unidentified at Murphy & Maryott's undertaking rooms, and unless his name and place of residence is learned today, the remains will be buried in Potter's field.

Monday Chief Miller received a telegram from a police captain at Stapleton, Staten Island, to the effect that Thomas Joseph Kennedy was there alive and well. A card bearing this name was found beside the corpse.

Two men identified the corpse as that of Ray Rhodes of Sayre, and yesterday afternoon the parents of that young man viewed the remains only to find that it was not their son who had met such a horrible fate.

Ott & Hay have taken a photograph of the dead youth, and Chief Miller, Coroner Johnson and Murphy & Maryott will do everything possible toward locating relatives of the deceased. He was no ordinary tramp, as the hair was carefully brushed, finger nails manicured, and his clothes were of a different character than those usually worn by professional tramps.

Last Log Sawed.

The shriek of the whistle at the Brown, Clark & Howe saw mill at Williamsport, at noon Friday, proclaimed the permanent cessation of activities on the part of the old mill, which since 1865 has been identified with the industrial life of Williamsport. From 1865 to 1883 the mill was under the management of Brown, Earley & Co. During the year 1883 it was taken over by the present owners and ever since that period has been run under their direction. Friday morning the last log was sawed and the old mill shut down never again to resume operations. It was with sorrowful hearts that the employes, some of whom have worked there more than a score of years, walked from the plant at noon and wended their way to their homes.

DEATH RELIEVES BOY'S TERRIBLE SUFFERINGS.

Raymond Werts of Sayre, Bradford County's Victim of the Fourth.

The deadly blank cartridge which is used so extensively to help make noise in celebrating the nation's birthday, has claimed a victim in Bradford county. Raymond Werts, a bright 13 years old boy, died at Sayre Thursday night at 9 o'clock after hours of terrible suffering with lockjaw. Death in his case was truly a relief. He was born Sept. 23, 1896, and was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Werts.

While celebrating the Fourth he had what is known as a bull's eye pistol, and was shooting blanks in it when it burst and a piece of steel was embedded in the middle finger of the right hand. The wound was slight and very little attention was given outside of the ordinary home remedies.

On Monday last the wound looked very bad and he was taken to a doctor, but not until Tuesday did the muscles of the jaw begin to be affected and this gradually extended downward until a large part of the body was involved.

As the tetanus or lockjaw progressed the convulsions became more and more frequent and Thursday afternoon and evening the boy's suffering was something terrible to behold. It was known since last Tuesday night when the first severe attack came on that there was not the least hope for his recovery, and it was only a matter of waiting for the end.

BEAR TURNS FISHERMAN.

Law Protected Beast Catches Trout Illegally—Williamsport Tale.

The following tale has been sent out from Williamsport: "Like the Apostle Peter, Bre'r Bear is a fisherman, but unlike that holy man, he has no respect for the law and he won't play fair. Wherefore some of the stream owners in this section of the State are declaring that either Mr. Bear has got to observe the fish law, or somebody's going to forget to obey the bear law one of these fine days. Since he has been under the protection of the game law. Bruin has been bold and bad in these arts, and his latest crime is illegal fishing.

"The streams are low in the mountains, lower than for many a day, and the panting trout that infest them, planted and cultured at considerable expense, have little protection in the shallow waters against the lumbering bear, who, in spite of his awkward appearance, can scoop up a trout with a lightning movement of his paw.

"Christian Schuler, of the Sugar Camp Run district, reports that for four years he has been husbanding a colony of trout until they were fit for a King's sport. He had them in a pond on his farm. During the past week the waters of the pond were low and bears visited the spot and had the time of their lives. Some of the fish were over 15 inches long and hundreds were over ten inches long. The bears waded right into the pond, drove the fish into shallow water and scooped them up by dozens. Schuler estimates that over two thirds of the whole number of trout were stolen."

Verdict for Plaintiff.

James Terry, Lawrence Gordon and C. B. Tyrrell, the arbitrators in the case of Reuben Larabee vs. the Lehigh Valley Railroad company on Saturday returned a verdict in favor of Mr. Larabee for $1,500. Mr. Larabee, while working on the Towanda section crew was knocked from a handcar which was struck by a locomotive near the East Towanda station last October, and badly injured. The case which was for $25,000 damages was called before arbitrators last Friday and finished on Saturday, when the award was made. The plaintiff is dissatisfied with the verdict, and will carry the case to court. Lilley & Wilson and David E. Kaufman represent the plaintiff, while William Maxwell and Rodney A Mercur represented the railroad company.

B. Heddens' restaurant. Shortly after 7 o'clock they started on the last stage of their 'flight' and arrived at Williamsport at 9 o'clock Thursday evening.

Y., says: The deadly anthrax, which has caused the death of a number of valuable cows near Girardville, this county, is believed to have caused the death of Theodore Writer, a young man of that place. DOWN WITH THE MOSQUITO.

Prof. Surface, State Zoologists Tells How to Get Strangle Hold.

"Preparations should be made at once to down the undesirable mosquito," is the suggestion made by the Division of Zoology of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. Mosquitoes carry the germs of disease and there is no more potent disseminator of fevers. The utmost precaution should, therefore, be taken to keep the mosquito out of our homes

As pools of stagnant water, cisterns and cess-pools are breeding places of mosquitoes, Prof. H. A. Surface, the State Zoologist, recommends that all tanks of water, cisterns, or vessels which hold water, or which might be filled with water after a rain, be covered, or screened with a screen of at least 18 meshes of wire to the inch. Standing water on lots or commons should not be permitted. All shallow lots should be drained and kept dry, and post holes filled, old tin cans and bottles emptied, and all breeding places destroyed. All stables ought to be provided with air-tight receptacles for refuse, and this refuse should be removed every week.

Where there are large natural bodies of water which cannot be drained, the surface should be disinfected and oiled with kerosene at frequent and regular intervals. Kerosene is invaluable in this connection, and it is also good as a disinfectant. Chloride of lime, or common copperas (sulphate of iron) can be thrown into cess pools. Even the water used in sprinkling carts can be charged with disinfectants, and will prove a valuable aid in keeping away the mosquitoes. The proprietors of restaurants, meat markets, milk depots and bakeries should be compelled to screen their premises as well as all receptacles in which water stands or food is kept and prepared, in order to guard against mosquitoes and flies.

Fatally Burned.

At Pittston Friday afternoon, Fire completely destroyed the residence of Patrick Eagan. Anthony Duffy, three years old, was fatally, and Jesse Wilson, a neighbor, and Thomas Eagan, 15 years old, seriously burned. The fire was caused by an explosion in the kitchen stove. The Duffy boy, who was playing in an adjoining room, ran up stairs to escape the fire, a fatal error.. Wilson rushed into the burning house to rescue the child and succeeded in bringing him out, but the boy had already received fatal burns.

Mixed Drinks.

That the Towanda firemen mixed their drinks at Wellsville on Thursday is attested to by a well known business man, who overheard a conversation between a Franklin and Naiad as they were coming from the midnight train Thursday. One of the firemen said to the other: "I had a glass of ice water at one place, right close by I took a glass of milk shake and then went across the road and had an ice cream soda, which filled me to the neck."

Unconscious From Fright.

Aged Jacob Baker, of Lycoming county, while picking an armload of wood at the woodpile Thursday evening, was bitten on the end of his finger by a copperhead snake. He soon became unconscious, and remained in that state for 12 hours. Powerful stimulants had to be administered to resuscitate him. While his arm and body became very much swollen his serious condition for the most part was caused by fright.

Book Company Under Ban.

According to a decision handed down by the appellate court the International Text-Book company of Scranton, Pa., is a foreign corporation, which is doing business illegally in Illinois, never having taken out a permit. The decision means that the book company cannot collect debts. It sued W. A. Muller of Decatur for $45.80 and the court ruled that he did not need to pay the bill.

No More Guessing.

The postoffice department has ruled that all guessing contests such as naming the number of beans in a bottle, the number of cigars that will be made in a factory, the number of admissions that will be sold at a fair, etc. constitute a lottery and that a newspaper that contains any mention of any such guessing contest cannot be circulated in the mails.

A Failure in Waverly.

Paul W. Towner, a jeweler doing business on Broad street, in Waverly, has transferred his property to W. H. Wright, of Binghamton, who will act in behalf of a number of Mr. Towner's creditors, whose accounts against him amount to over $10,000. It is expected that Mr Towner will be thrown into bankruptcy and that all the creditors will share alike.

Broke Wooden Leg.

Friends of a Hazleton man were with him on Tuesday night when he stumbled while walking home and apparently broke his leg. His companions, solicitiously aided him to his place of abode and when after having reached the place calmly pulled up his trousers and showed them his broken limb—of wood.

Scared By Auto.

While intoxicated Jacob Haase, a travelling card decorator, became scared at an automobile when on the trolley bridge at Sayre Thursday night, and climbed over the railing, falling to the ground a distance of about fifteen feet and now lies in the Packer hospital with his right leg fractured near the hip.

FORMER BRADFORD COUNTIAN WINS IN JUNE BUTTER CONTEST

O. D. Mott is the Man—Bradford Countians Score 90 and Better.

The Pennsylvania buttermakers' educational contest for June held at State College, brought out twenty-four packages of butter. Unfortunately, the week when this butter was made was one of the hottest of the season, and some of the butter reflected the lack of facilities both at the farm and at the creamery. The five pound packages, which were packed in a larger tub, or a fifty pound butter box, with plenty of crumpled-up newspaper for filler, came through in good shape. Tubs wrapped only in two or three thickness of paper got badly heated in transit.

Each additional contest shows that many are trying out suggestions to get an acid test, or use cultures for starters, and getting better results than they did formerly. O. D. Mott, of Edinburg, a former Bradford county farmer again received a high score, 93, even after losing half a point for mottles. Russel Lord, P. O. Willett, N. Y., also scored 93. The moisture this time was more uniform than usual. One had 10.5 per cent., another 11 per cent. All the rest were between 12 and 14 per cent. except one, 14.75 per cent.

The scoring was done by C. W. Fryhofer, government inspector in the New York market. The criticisms and suggestions were made by F. P. Knoll. The diplomas for those competing in last year's contest with an average of 90 or better are ready to mail.

The following are the June scores of 90 and over: Otis Bliss, McCall's Ferry, Pa., 90; H. G. Hawthorne, Monroeton, Po., 92; L. W. Kier, Nichols, N. Y., 93; Ralph Martin, St. Johns, Pa., 90½; W. D. Marshall, Lyndell, Pa., 92; O. D. Mott, Edinburg, Pa., 93; New Era Creamery company, Wyalusing, Pa., 90½; Theodore Niering, Wapwallopen, Pa., 91½; H. L. Rockefeller, Towanda, Pa., 92; H. W. Saxton, Granville Summit, Pa., 91.

Mileage Books Good as Money.

The Pennsylvania railroad may accept mileage the same as money and mileage books will be used not only for the payment of the regular railroad fare, but for excess fare, excess baggage, cigars, dinners, drinks, tips, etc., if a plan suggested by a passenger official is carried out. The new scheme was outlined at a recent meeting of passenger officials and it is believed that the new system will be inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Should the practice of using mileage books for the payment of all bills on passenger trains in dining cars, etc., be adopted, it is believed that the mileage books will become more popular than ever before.

Iced Oysters No More.

The national agricultural department, which has charge of the administration of the pure food law, has ruled that ice packed in with raw oysters constitutes an adulteration. That is, the water which melts out of the ice is an adulterant addition to the oyster juice, within the meaning of the law. This decision, which has been officially conveyed by the department to the National Oyster Growers and Dealers' Association, is soon to be followed by the active enforcement of the new regulations, which provide that raw oysters must be shipped in refrigerated packages where the ice and the bivalves do not come in direct contact.

Locomotive Decoration.

Lehigh engine No. 1365 has been decorated in a peculiar manner by Edward Carpenter an engineer. Using a composition which is supposed to contain much carbon, but which he holds as a secret, Mr. Carpenter painted a large star on the front end of the engine. In the daytime the star is just visible and that is all. But like the other stars, it shines at night. When the engine is working the front end of the engine becomes hot and then the star shines brightly through the darkness. When the engine is pulling a train up a hill the star shows to best advantage.—Sayre Times-Record.

Will Slide Down Riv-ah.

Charles Davidson of Porter's drug store, and Doc E. Kline of the Kline cold storage, Monday started on a boating trip down the Susquehanna "riv-ah." They will give their sled a shove out on the shiny bosom of the beautiful Susquehanna, and then leter-gogallagher. They don't care a continental whether the boat floats head foremost or backward, just so she floats for the next ten days, neither do they care whether the fish bite or not, as they are going for a nice long boat ride wherever that may take them.

Preparing For Winter.

Up in Sayre the people are already preparing for Winter. Citizens are buying butter at prices ranging from 18 to 22 cents per pound, and having it cared for at the cold storage at the rate of one cent per pound. They figure that when the snow is flying and the thermomenter hovering around the zero mark butter will be selling at from 40 to 50 cents a pound in the shop town, and they will have a supply at Summer prices.

Election Invalid.

At Binghamton, Justice Gladding has handed down a decision in the Afton excise case, declaring the license election invalid. The no-license people won the election after a hot canvass by one vote. It is held that the petition asking that the excise question be submitted to the voters was incorrectly drawn.

MORE ABOUT DAM PROJECT

Investors Are Trying to Evade What Caused Trouble at McCall's Ferry.

EXORBITANT LAND PRICES HELPED SPRAG WHEEL

Men Behind That Project Paid Fancy Prices For Real Estate and Now They Are in Hands of Creditors. Receivers Appointed.

Since Meikleham & Dinsmore commenced considering Towanda as a site for a big dam and electrical generating plant, the fact that a big dam is being built at McCall's Ferry on the Susquehanna river has been mentioned, and it has been reported that Meikleham & Dinsmore were interested in that project.

While they are not, and have not been connected with that enterprise, yet they are perfectly familiar with every detail of the project, and that acquaintance is just what is making them go very careful here.

It is generally known that the McCall Ferry project is in the hands of a receiver, and that work has been suspended, and this very thing is a hindrance to the Towanda project. It is an admitted fact that the men behind the McCall Ferry project paid fancy prices for the land needed and this is given as one of the big reasons for the difficulty, although the financial depression of 1907 was a big factor.

To avoid this here, Meikleham & Dinsmore are cutting down every cent of expense possible. They have a market for sufficient bonds to build the dam in Towanda providing the premises are not encumbered, and that the real estate is secured at actual value and not at fancy prices. To meet this point, every effort is being made by the local representatives of the investors, and in some instances they are meeting with favor, while in others they are very much discouraged.

Options have been secured in a number of instances at figures that stagger all landowners and especially the men behind the dam project. These options were taken because they could not do anything else. If these prices are not lowered, the chances are that the dam will not be built by Meikleham & Dinsmore, for they know what they are about and will not run into any of the difficulties which have befell the people at McCall's ferry.

Receiver Appointed.

In speaking of the McCall's Ferry porject, Sunday's Philadelphia Press has the following to say:

Judge Gray, of the United States Circuit Court of Wilmington, Saturday appointed J. Edward Aldred, of Lawrence, Mass., receiver of the McCall's Ferry Power company, which owns extensive water rights in Lancaster and York Counties, Pa., and in Hartford and Cecil Counties, Md. The company is at present engaged in constructing an immense concrete dam sixty feet high and half a mile long over the Susquehanna river, below Cully's Falls, together with a large hydro-electric plant.

The receiver was appointed on the petition of the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York, holder of a mortgage covering the entire property rights and franchises of the defendant company, and given to secure the payment of the principal and interest on $10,000,000 of 5 per cent gold bonds, of which $9,027,000 have been issued and are now outstanding. Default was made in the payment of the interest on the coupons, which was due on December 15 last, and, after waiting six months, the majority of the holders of the bonds demanded of the trustee of the mortgage payment of the full amount of the principal interest of the bonds in their possession.

The default was admitted by William M. Barnum, of Mamaronick, N. Y., chairman of the reorganization committee, on behalf of the committee, and Frank H. Mills, counsel for the defendant company, consented to the appointment of the receiver.

The McCall's Ferry Power company was organized more than five years ago by Philadelphia and New York capitalists following reports presented by George S. Morrison and Carey T. Hutchinson on its engineering possibilities. The Knickerbocker Trust company, of New York, took a leading part in financing the scheme and when that institution became embarrassed with about 80 per cent. building operations completed, work ceased. When the Knickerbocker company failed nearly all the bonds and preferred stock were deposited with a committee, the bankers of the syndicate being Harvey Fisk & Co., and others.

The McCall Ferry project was one of great magnitude. Briefly the projectors proposed by the construction of a $10,000,000 dam across the Susquehanna river, to establish a hydro-electric power plant with 140,000 horse power and to furnish the current to run the mills and to light the streets in a multitude of cities, towns and hamlets, the most prominent being Baltimore, forty miles away. Extension of its service to Philadelphia was one of the suggested possibilities

The great dam across the Susquehanna river, the most monumental of the company's works was planned to be 2,600 feet long from bank to bank 80 feet thick at the base, 25 feet at the crest and 32 feet high. It was designed to imprison the waters of the Susquehanna which roar down the rocks with a fall of 117 feet in twenty miles in a great lake ten miles long and then to liberate the waters through ten pairs of the largest turbine wheels ever constructed each pair weighing 677,000 pounds. With the resulting 140,000 horse power in the form of electricity, there was to be supplied light and power within a radius of one hundred miles. In this radius are Philadelphia, Lancaster, Columbia, Chester, West Chester, Coatesville, Harrisburg, Steelton, Reading, Pottstown, Norristown Conshocken, York, Downington, Phoenixville and Lebanon, all in Pennsylvania; Wilmington, Newark, Clayton, in Delaware; Baltimore, Port Deposit, Havre de Grace, Aberdeen and other places in Maryland.

The work was begun towards the close of 1905 by almost a thousand men and until recently has continued a maximum of 3000 men having been engaged. Officers of the corporation and many employees took up their residence in a new and attractive village specially built for their accommodation.

Work, however, ceased about the time of the financial depression in 1907. Much of the dam was completed before work ceased.

Plenty of Smoke But No Fire.

The Towanda fire department was called out at 5 o'clock Saturday morning by an alarm turned in by the nightwatchman at Frost's factory. Shavings are conveyed to the firebox under the boilers by means of suction tubes, and it is customary to shut off these tubes when the machinery and fans are not running. A substitute watchman was on Friday night, and he forgot to close the tubes with the result that when he started the fires to get up steam the smoke from the firebox found its way through the suction tubes and completely filled the upper rooms of the factory. The watchman found the smoke so thick when he started on his hourly round of the factory, that he believed the building was on fire and so turned in an alarm. The fire department responded quickly, but fortunately their services were not needed.

Tried to Bribe Court.

This story comes from Coudersport: John E. Eckert, a prospective buyer of the McCloud House at Keating Summit, and a retired lumberman of St. Marys, knows what it means to be struck in the face by a judicial fist and that it does not pay to try to bribe the judiciary. Eckert had arranged for the transferring of a liquor license, and Judge John Ormerod told him if he ran his place right there would be no trouble. At this point Eckert pulled out a roll of bills and told the judge to put it in his pocket. Insulted, Judge Ormerod threw the money in Eckert's face and gave him several resounding punches in the face.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Philander E. Woodruff Married Fifty Years.

The LeRaysville Times gives the following account of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Woodruff, two of Eastern Bradford's best known and most highly respected people:

July 10th is always a memorable day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Philander E. Woodruff, but especially was it so this year, as on that day they reached the fiftieth milestone in their married life.

In honor of the event, the commodious home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Davis, was thrown open and in response to invitations to a Golden Wedding, relatives and friends from near and far gathered to assist in doing honor to the happy couple. The day was an ideal one for such a gathering, and only a very small number of those favored with invitations failed to accept.

A remarkable fact is that the family circle of brothers and sisters of Mrs. Woodruff's side remains unbroken; another, that every one was present, namely: J. J. Barnes, who has been in very poor health for some time, and whose presence was the cause of great rejoicing. Rev. D. C. Barnes, Mrs. Addie Smith and Rev. N. W. Barnes. Of Mr. Woodruff's family one sister was present, Mrs. D. C. Barnes.

The day also had another significance in that it was the eleventh birthday anniversary of their grandson, Lewis Woodruff.

Soon after his arrival, Mr. Woodruff made the rounds and presented each of the children with twenty and ten dollar gold pieces.

About 12 o'clock the guests, headed by the bride and groom of fifty years ago, were ushered to the dining rooms, where seated around tables decorated with ferns and flowers, they were served with a bountiful repast. Directly in front of Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff was a large bouquet of beautiful roses, the gift of a neighbor.

After dinner, music was rendered by Rev. and Mrs. N. W. Barnes, Mrs. Smith, Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Seiple and others, followed by prayer by Rev. F. A. King, the presenting of thirty dollars in gold to Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, and congratulatory remarks by Revs, D. C. and N. W. Barnes, Rev. Seiple, Rev. King, H. I. Champlin and J. A. Bowker. Congratulations from a distance were received by telephone. All joined in singing "God be with you till we meet again," than adjourned to the lawn where a photographer was in waiting and secured pictures of the family and of the entire company.

Not until the shades of evening had fallen did the last guest depart, feeling it had indeed been a rare treat to have a part in celebrating the Golden wedding of a couple so worthy the love and esteem of all their friends and acquaintances.

The guests, numbering nearly eighty, were from Owego, Binghamton, Nichols and Schenevus, N. Y., Wysox, Lawton, Ulster, Brooklyn, Little Meadows, Montrose, East Herrick, Orwell, South Hill, Stevensville, Prattville, Neath and LeRaysville.

Hail Ruins Grapes.

A news dispatch from Bath, N. Y., says: "A devastating hail storm cut a fourmile swath through the Lake Keuka grape country just after noon yesterday. Hailstones as large as hickory nuts fell in great volume, ruining grapes and gardens. High wind added to the destruction. The loss to the grape crop alone is estimated at fully $25,000. The storm started near Gibson's Landing and swept across the lake into Wayne, Weston and Watkins."

Lincoln Cents Out August 15.

On the new one-cent piece which will be issued by the government from the Philadelphia mint on Aug. 1, a profile of the head of Abraham Lincoln will replace the Indian head, which has been in use for more than a generation. Thus discarded the Indian head will share the fate of its predecessor, the eagle, for the reason that it is easily counterfeited.

UNKNOWN YOUNG MAN KILLED NEAR RUMMERFIELD

Mangled Remains Found on Westbound Track Saturday Morning.

The mangled body of an unknown young man was found on the railroad track about midway between Rummerfield and Standing Stone early Saturday morning, and up to a late hour last night all attempts at identification were fruitless. The only clew that Coroner Johnson has is a printed card which bears the following: "Thomas Joseph Stapleton Stapleton, S. I."

Engineer John Coleman of Towanda, pulling a fast freight from Coxton to Sayre discovered the body, which was laying between the rails of the Westbound track at a point nearly opposite the Standing Stone rock. Engineer Coleman was unable to stop his train, before 15 cars had passed over the body. The train crew found the body stiff, indicating that he had been dead some time. A fast freight preceded the train which found the body by only five minutes, and what train killed the young man is not known.

When first seen by Engineer Coleman, the body was lying between the rails, face downward, and legs outspread, one having been over either rail.

The body was brought to Towanda, and placed in care of Murphy & Maryott. Careful examination by Coroner Johnson showed a compound depressed fracture of the skull, numerous cuts and bruises about the head and body, and both legs severed above the knees. The face was badly lacerated.

The train crew found beside the body a card giving the name of Thomas Joseph Kennedy, a dime saving bank about half full of dimes, and a number of small coins. Undertaker Maryott found in one of his shoes a small leather pocketbook containing three one dollar bills. Three 15 cent novels were the only other articles found in the pockets.

The dead man was about 20 years of age; five feet and nine inches tall; of medium build, weighing about 150 pounds. He had very dark, brown hair, brown eyes, and the front teeth were badly decayed. He wore two pairs of trousers, one pair with a stripe effect, and a pair of blue serge trousers over them. A blue serge coat and vest matched the serge trousers. Under the coat and vest were three shirts, a balbriggan undershirt next the flesh, then a white shirt with a small black stripe, with a black shirt over that. A brown necktie, lace shoes and black stockings completed his attire. No hat was found near the remains.

From the quality of his clothes and the manner of dress, he was not an ordinary tramp, more likely a mechanic out of work and beating a ride on a freight train when he went to sleep, fell off and was killed.

Saturday and Sunday, a large number of people viewed the remains, and while the body was identified three or four times, yet each one was disproved. John L. McMahon of Towanda recognized in the corpse his son, but a telegram to him at the last place heard from brought the information that he was alive and well.

Charles Casper and C. B. Tyrrell of Athens, identified the corpse as that of Robert Nichols, a young man whose home is in Athens. Telephone communication soon proved that the young man was at home. Others identified the corpse as some one they knew, but in each case, the supposed party would turn up alive.

Former Athenian Noted Artist.

An article was recently printed in a Baltimore paper which describes the career of Leon Geer, a New York artist. It stated that the work he is now producing, all but rivals that of Charles Dana Gilson.

Geer is a former Athens boy. His parents lived on North Main street and older residents will remember that they moved from there, returning in 1898. Geer left for New York city in 1900 to study art. He is but twenty-two years of age, and, if prophecies come true, he will, in a few years, be one of America's greatest artists.

TOWANDA FAT MEN WERE TOO HEFTY FOR SAYRE.

They Weighed a Ton But Ran Circles Around Shoptowners.

Despite the fact that it aggregated a ton of human flesh the Towanda Fat Man's ball team ran circles all around the Sayre Fat Men's nine on Tuesday afternoon at the shop town. A big crowd saw the Towanda heavy weights win by a score of 17 to 10. In the first inning Towanda made seven or eight scores and from that time on were enabled to take things easy.

Towanda aggregated 27 hits, every man on the team making from two to six safe whacks, and Dunfee got in a home run. The Towanda battery was Meredith and Marcy on the plate and Dunfee behind the bat. They worked to perfection both in position and with the stick. For Sayre Cool, Mulligan and Vangorder each took a turn at twirling, while Jess Madigan caught. Cool was injured and retired and Madigan received a broken finger and gave way for Rolfe. A sort of slaughter of the innocents. There is a rumor that Manager Oakley of the Sayre Fats will be asked to resign as he is reported to have missed 18 chances in left field. However that point will not be decided until after the return game is played in Towanda on Tuesday next.

HAVING GOOD RUN.

Dayton Shoe Factory at Williamsport Has Resumed Operations.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin has the following to say concerning a factory in that city in which G. A. Dayton, the well known Towanda miller is interested:

"The Dayton shoe factory, now again in operation after a short suspension for repairs, is a busy place. Considerable interest in the factory already here has been aroused by the announcement that Williamsport will soon have a second shoe manufacturing concern. The new Kenmore concern will make high grade boys' and men's shoes. The Dayton company makes men's and boys' shoes and also women's shoes, but no girls' or children's shoes.

"It has been announced that eventually the Kenmore company will employ about 200 hands. This is approximately the number working at the Dayton factory, which is a steady running concern whose goods have a fine reputation.

"During the recent suspension a wall was moved in the cellar, to give access to a large new boiler installed some time ago. The boiler is larger than the old one and almost filled the former boiler room, leaving no access to parts of the new boiler should it be necessary to do work on it at any time. Some of the machines were also moved and there was a quite general overhauling."

Funny Boys Jailed.

Richard Dailey, who gave his home as Hazleton, and Floyd Williams, claiming Ohio as his place of residence were before Justice Orcutt Tuesday, charged with the larceny of whips from wagons standing on Main street. S. G. Barner and Jesse Allen were the complainants. Dailey was given 60 days in jail and a fine of $5, while Williams got 30 days with Sheriff Dean and a fine of $1. These would be funny boys have been about town for several days.

Bride's Strenuous Day.

Roy Frost and Mrs. Edith Ide, both of Covington, were married in this borough, July 5th. According to the Tioga Argus the bride had rather a strenuous day of it. She attended the celebration and circus in Wellsboro, secured a divorce from her former husband, experienced the ordeal of a second marriage and was visited by a heavy white Frost. Isn't that going some?

Another Large Snake.

W. L. Spencer, proprietor of the Red Star Shoe store, while returning from his farm at Wesauking the other day, came upon a black snake which was stretched out in the road. The head of the reptile was out of sight in the grass on one side of the road, there was a large kink in the body along in the middle, and the tail was covered by the grass on the opposite side of the road.

Fire at Troy.

Fire broke out about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning in the boarding house of Mrs. L. M. Gillett in Troy. It was well started before the fire company responded and the roof and second story were destroyed. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in one of the sleeping rooms. Only a small part of the contents were saved. There was a small insurance.

ELWELL.

Mr. and Mrs. Frem Hunsinger of Colley, were Sunday visitors at Joseph Girven's.

Mrs. D. A. Scouten was the guest of Mrs. C. M. Sweet on Thursday.

Mrs. Charles Sweet and little grandson were entertained by Mrs. Harlie Rogers and family last weks.

What a Woman Will Not Do.

There is nothing a woman will not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine or Lane's Tea is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks. TOWANDA PRINTING COMPANY PURCHASES THE ONTARIO BLOCK

The Daily Review and Reporter Journal to Have Fine New Home.

A deal was consumated on Saturday whereby the Towanda Printing Company becomes the owner of the Ontario block at the corner of Main and State streets, one of the handsomest and most substantial buildings in the City of Promise. The block was purchased from Henry Streeter, Esq., who purchased it from Mrs. E. J. Angle.

The Ontario block was erected in 1897-8. It is of a fine grade of stone known as conglomerate, the same as that of which the court house is constructed. The block has a 75 foot frontage on Main street, is 67 feet deep and three stories high.

The first floor, comprising four fine rooms, is to be remodeled and made the home of The Daily Review and the Reporter-Journal, the two papers published by the Towanda Printing company together with the large job and book publishing business. The second and third floors are not to be changed, the second floor being left for offices and the third floor will continue as the home of the Ontario Club.

While the block is now the property of the Towanda Printing company, the printing establishment will not be moved from Park street for some time. When located in the Ontario block it is the plans of the company that The Review and Reporter-Journal will have one of the finest homes, and most complete newspaper plant of any town the size of Towanda in the country.

TROLLEY ROAD, PERHAPS.

Rumors Afloat That P., B. & E. is to Be Completed and Electrified.

Rumor has it that the P., B. & E. is to be completed, and that it is to be made a trolley road. Power, so the rumor goes, is to be furnished from the electrical plant operated by water, if the dam is built near Towanda.

This is very feasible, and there is no reason why the road from Powell to Canton, with connections at Towanda would not pay as it would open one of the most fertile valleys in all Pennsylvania.

Several Bradford county capitalists have been looking over the P., B. & E. property, and it is understood that New York capitalists are ready to lend a hand, providing they see their way clear to make it a paying venture.

Those interested in the project are of the opinion that to electrify the road is the most practical plan, and if the dam is built in the river near Towanda, the chances are that with the beginning of work on that big enterprice, will be accompanied by the resuming of work on the P. B. & E. roadbed.

Entrtained at Bungalow.

Miss Katherine Smith of Grays Run entertained at her bungalow in honor of her guest, Miss Hazel Hurd of Laquin the following: Misses Georgia Hurtle, Verda Heylmun, Louisa Dunfee, Hattie LeRoy and Pearl Hope, of Ralston, Ruth Harding Virginia Carslile of Williamsport, Katherine Sutton, Victoria Audet of Grays Run. Messers. Robert Lee, Jack Avery, Victor Audet, Wesley Kerr, Ernest and George Sweet, Jack Hurley, Chas. McEwen, Jack Williams. Refreshments and games were the chief amusements of the evening. All report a fine time.

Bitten By Dog.

John Graham, Jr., returned Friday from a visit with his grandparents at Dushore. While on his vacation, "Johnny" met with misfortune, a vicious dog taking him by the arm and not letting go until a piece of the flesh had been removed. He was given medical attention at Dushore and brought to his home in Towanda. The wound was cauterized and no serious results are anticipated.

New Entrance Into New York.

The Lehigh will operate trains through the great McAdoo tunnel, making a direct entrance into New York city.

Close to Perpetual Motion.

Daniel Drawbaugh, an inventor at Eberly's Mills, Pa., has a clock which he made and which has been running 33 years with but one winding. It is said that a record of 33 years has been previously made by a clock and Drawbaugh's clock has just broken this record and will probably run for several years more.

MILLIONS OF GRASSHOPPPERS.

Reported to be Cavorting About the Fields on Western Bradford County

Says the Troy Gazette-Register: "Millions of tiny grasshoppers are reported in the fields of this locality, particularly in Springfield and Columbia, and a repetition of last year's devastation is feared.

"Hoping to again put the farmers in touch with Prof. Hyslop who came from Washington last year to aid in combating the pests, Charles N. Greene wrote last Saturday to the Department of Agriculture telling of the present invasion. He has in reply a letter from F. W. Webster, in charge of Cereal and Plant Insect Investigation, saying Prof. Hyslop is in California and therefore not available and urging the immediate use of the Criddle mixture, consisting of a half barrel of fresh horse droppings to which has been added a pound each of salt and Paris green. This mixture Mr Webster writes has given better results, than any other, especially when used while the hoppers are still small. It is to be scattered freely about where there are many grasshoppers. They seem to be attracted to it for they devour it readily and are poisoned thereby. Dr. James Fletcher, entomologist for the Dominion of Canada cites an instance where the mixture had been scattered freely around the edges of field and states that this particular field stood out as a green patch in a barren plain, as it was situated in the midst of fields where nothing had been done to destroy the grasshoppers.

"This Criddle mixture now seems preferable to the poisoned bran remedy that has given and still continues to give beneficial results, for it is less expensive and less likely to poison other animal life."

Cupid's Capers.

Cupid has a new plan which, just worked out, has resulted in the marriage of an Ithaca young man. This was through the use of souvenir postal cards and the young people were well on the way towards matrimony before they had met. William McDowell, a well-known young man of Ithaca, was married in North Lansing Wednesday night to Miss Mary Robinson as a result of a year's correspondence. A friend signed Miss Robinson's name to a postal sent to McDowell. McDowell answered and Miss Robinson, although taken by surprise, sent one herself, and from then on, the exchange became regular. Later an exchange of photographs took place and a few weeks ago McDowell called and the engagement resulted.

Fell Down Stairs.

Mrs. Rosengrant, mother of Rev. E. J. Rosengrant, formerly pastor of the Towanda M. E. church, on Tuesday of this week at her home at Meshoppen, had the misfortune to fall down stairs. She was badly injured about her head and shoulders, and lower limbs, which caused a partial paralysis. Rev. Rosengrant came from Auburn, N. Y., on Wednesday evening, and Thursday morning took the injured lady to the Packer hospital for treatment.

STREAM OF OIL RUNNING FROM WELL AT SOUTH BRANCH

Jesse R. Cowell Secures Can of Fluid and Brings it to Towanda.

Jesse R. Cowell, the well known insurance agent, on whose land a derrick is being erected preparatory to the drilling of a well in the hopes of finding oil, Monday brought to Towanda a can of genuine petroleum which flowed from the abandoned well near the site of the well which is now to be drilled in.

Oil has been flowing from the abandoned well for a long time, running out on the surface of a small brook. Yesterday Mr. Cowell secured a can of the fluid and brought it to Towanda. There is no mistaking the genuineness of the petroleum.

The flowing of oil from this well only bears out the belief of many that if that well had been cleaned out and drilled in a little deeper after being "shot" oil in paying quantities would have been found.

SUED BY GUEST.

Landlord Loop, Formerly of Canton, in Trouble in Williamsport.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin gives the following story, having to do with a former Canton hotelkeeper.

"Through his attorneys, Candor & Munson, Joseph Byron, of Watertown, Mass., a traveling salesman for the A. C. Lawrence Leather company, on Wednesday, in the Lycoming county court, had a summons in trespass issued against E. Benjamin Loop, proprietor of The Updegraff, claiming damages in the sum of $205.05, with interest from November 13, 1908. In the statement filed in the prothonotary's office, the plaintiff claims that on November 12, 1908, he arrived alone at the hotel, and, registering as a guest, was assigned to a room by the management; on retiring for the night, he claimed that he fastened the door, and on arising the following morning, November 13, discovered that sundry articles were missing, without fault or negligence on the part of the plaintiff, from the room where he had placed them on the night previous.

"The plaintiff claims that the defendant was at once apprised of the loss, and although then, and since frequently requested to make good the loss, and reimburse the plaintiff, the defendant has wholly neglected and refused so to do.

"The plaintiff also avers in the statement that upon the defendant receiving the plaintiff as a guest of his hotel, the defendant became answerable for all loses happening to the goods or property of the plaintiff, for such time as he remained a guest of the hotel, except such loss or losses as might be caused by the act of God, or public enemies, or by the conduct of the plaintiff himself.

"The articles and their value alleged to have been missing from the room, as enumerated in the statement are as follows: One hunting case watch, valued at $11; one overcoat, $18; one vest, $5; two pairs of eyeglasses, $3; one pair of eyeglasses, $4; one coupon railroad ticket, $1.75; one pair of gloves, $1.50; cash, $72. Total, $205.05."

No Escape for Capitol Grafters.

The Superior Court of Pennsylvania, in opinions written by Justice Porter, has sustained the conviction in the Dauphin county court of John H. Sanderson, James Shumacker, William P. Snyder and William L. Mathues, jointly charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and with having defrauded the Commonwealth of the sum of $19,308.40. Sanderson was the contractor for the furniture and equipment of the new capitol building of the State at Harrisburg; Shumacker was superintendent of public grounds and buildings; Snyder was auditor general, and Mathues was State treasurer at the time of the commission of the offense, the date of which was fixed in the indictments as March 28th, 1906. Although both Sanderson and Mathues have died since the cases were appealed, the court determined to render a separate opinion in each case.

Warning to Boys.

A news dispatch from Pottsville says: George, the 12-year-old son of H. M. Stuck, a prominent business man, of Towner City, is dying from water paralysis, the result of excessive swimming. Physicians say his symptoms are most peculiar, the paralysis coming on him while in the water, he being suddenly seized with a chill. This is ascribed to his overheated condition when he entered the water.

MISSIONARY'S WIFE PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff—Feared she Would Lose her Hair—Many Treatments were Futile—Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband was a missionary in the Southwest, and we were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies, in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After rubbing the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly into the roots of the hair, I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry, I again rubbed the Cuticura Ointment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful curatives for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed, when necessary, by a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.
